Highlights from inside pages

Most people have a variety of wishes for the new year but area vegetable growers will be content just to "survive in '75." At least that's the theme of their training program, announced on Page 29.

A new Granite City policeman is named in a story on Page 10. A Forum letter on Page 20 describes the thoughtfulness of local trash collectors. On the same page are editorials on Social Security and a proposed new coal terminal.

Faster compensation of crime victims is the hope of state officials, as outlined on Page 34.

News notes of local interest

Holiday Inn at East St. Louis closed Tuesday, a year after an appeal by city officials to reconsider a 1974 closing decision. Losses over the last three years are estimated at $500,000.

The Illinois Supreme Court ruled Tuesday that drivers accused of being drunk must give their consent or blood samples cannot be taken from them to determine intoxication. But refusal to take a breath test can result in license forfeiture for a motorist.

President Ford at a press conference Tuesday said he will continue to fight gasoline rationing proposals as being ineffective and unfair. He said such a plan would have to last five or ten years and might limit the average motorist to less than nine gallons a week.

Volkswagen of America, U.S. marketing arm of the German car maker, said Monday that "tolling auto sales have at least temporarily halted the proposed establishment of an assembly plant in the U.S."

General Motors and American Motors this week joined Chrysler and Ford in offering cash rebates to buyers of new autos.

The 1974 inflation rate was 12.2 per cent, highest since the 18.2 per cent rise in 1946.

Coal terminal proposed here

A $1,500,000 loading and storage terminal was proposed by the Tri-City Regional Port District Wednesday afternoon as a means of helping St. Louis metropolitan area coal-using firms meet stricter national environmental requirements that will go into effect July 1.

At a meeting at the Missouri Athletic Club attended by about 50 industrial officials, Port General Manager Carl A. Ranft said low-sulfur Western coal can be obtained in 10,000-ton trainloads at substantial savings to users within a 30-mile radius of the harbor.

In cooperation with the Bulk Service Corporation, whose president is E. B. Anderson, the Tri-City Port proposes to create a 120,000-ton storage area and to install equipment to handle the unloading of 110-car trains routed here from Wyoming or other Western states. During the last year, we have had many inquiries from manufacturers, barge lines, coal producers and railroads," Ranft related.

"The Tri-City Port, as a public agency, has the means to put together a project capable of meeting industries' need for coal in the entire metropolitan area."

"The facility that has been designed can unload unit trains direct to storage. To conform with specific needs, the coal can be reloaded into rail, truck or barge shipments."

"Our ability to coordinate shipments from a constant stockpile will be a major advantage, providing availability and flexibility."

He estimated that large-quantity shipments on unit trains would enable transportation and handling charges to be held to $14 to $15 a ton, a saving of about $6 per ton over the rate for multiple car shipments.

Businesses represented at the meeting were asked to indicate whether they are interested by the first week of February.

Initial participants would underwrite the cost of the equipment, and the rates applicable to them would be limited to the amount necessary to amortize the project over a period of three to five years, the gathering was told.

Plans include the future blending of Illinois and western coal to produce mixtures of low sulfur content and high quality burning characteristics, Anderson said. The proposed terminal site is on the Chain of Rocks Canal, at about the center point of the harbor area (eastern side of the canal's wide portion). Most of the coal handling equipment would be to the east (land side) of the canal levee.

In outlining the proposal, Ranft said, "We will be able to purchase coal from a producer on a direct basis and bring in unit trains. We will stockpile it or ship it direct to the user by water, rail or highway, all of

Mrs. Boger dies at 100

Mrs. Purl Boger, 2132 Nevada Ave., who celebrated her 100th birthday on Dec. 23, died at 7 p.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital where she had been a patient 10 days.

She was born in Elco, Ill., and moved to Mounds, Ill., after her marriage to the late Joseph Boger who died Jan. 28, 1947. Mrs. Boger resided in Granite City 38 years.

Mrs. Boger was honored here on her 100th birthday by relatives and friends who visited her throughout that week at her home.

At that time she recalled moving to Granite City in 1937 after a flood swept through Mounds where her family lived. Her son, Harry Boger, had moved to Granite City earlier and had reported a good life here, so the family moved, she recalled.

Her son was employed then at the Commonwealth Steel Plant. Mrs. Boger's husband, Joseph, was employed at the Granite City Army Depot after it was established in 1942.

Joseph Boger died in 1947 when a tree fell on him near the Meramec Caverns during a camping trip. Mrs. Boger remained a widow and maintained her home herself until assistance was required.

MRS. PURL BOGER
Centenarian succumbs

She was a member of the Second Baptist Church. Other survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Grace Lambeth and Mrs. Ruby Mayberry, both of Granite City; one son, Harry Boger of Collinsville, a brother, Robert Littleton of Anderson, Ind.; eight grandchildren, 17 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren. Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

One-week Smith shutdown

The A. O. Smith Corporation's Granite City plant today announced that due to curtailments and reduced shipping requirements at various customer assembly plants, it will be necessary to shut down all plant and office operations for the week of Jan. 27.

A company spokesman indicated that plant and office operations will resume at the current level on Feb. 3.

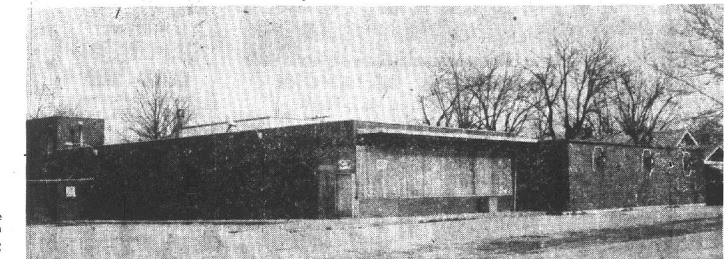

Approximately 850 plant and office employees are currently employed at the Granite City plant.

About 250 employees have been on indefinite layoff status since late 1974.

The local plant produces automobile frames for full-size passenger cars. Auto sales have decreased nationally due to gasoline cost and supply uncertainties.

HENRY WILLAREDT HONORED, Frederick Heepke, (left), president of the Madison County Farm Bureau, gives the 1974 Member Loyalty Award plaque to Henry Willaredt of Granite City at the 56th annual meeting of the County Farm Bureau, held in Edwardsville during the weekend. Willaredt is a charter member of the County Farm Bureau and past member of the board of directors of the Madison Service Company, an affiliate of the Farm Bureau.

ENGINEERING OFFICES of General Steel Industries will be located in this building at 2205 Pontoon Road, formerly occupied by Maryland Market. The Granite City Council Monday night enacted an ordinance granting a special use permit to General Steel for establishment of the offices at the Pontoon Road site. Extensive remodeling is planned. The office is to be relocated here from the castings division of General Steel which has been acquired by Granite City Steel, a division of National Steel Corp.

Bi-State decision on harbor awaited

A decision is expected to be made soon—possibly by mid-February—regarding control of the southern portion of the Granite City harbor area, the port controlled by the Missouri-Illinois Bi-State Development Agency.

In seeking to coordinate regional port planning, the Bi-State Agency is considering selling its Granite City river terminal to the Tri-City Regional Port District, occupant of the northern part of the harbor. Commissioners feel the agency should not be in the dual role of both operating a wharf terminal and coordinating plans for it and other metropolitan area docks.

Whether the timetable for a decision will be altered by a new development yesterday is uncertain.

Francis Touchette, Gen-

Price heads committee

A more open Armed Services Committee is expected following yesterday's 251-107 vote by the House Democratic Caucus naming Congressman Melvin Price to head the major committee.

While staunchly for an adequate national defense, the local congressman has pledged to give all 46 committee members a voice in the deliberations, and also to be guided to a considerable degree by the Congressional Budget Committee.

The East St. Louis Democrat won earlier votes of 152 to 133 by the Democratic Caucus on Jan. 16 and 21 to 0 by the House Democratic Steering and Policy Committee on Jan. 17.

Cong. F. Edward Hebert of Louisiana, who had headed the Armed Services Committee, said Tuesday he would drop his fight to retain the position.

The House of Representatives scheduled a vote today to confirm 1975-76 committee chairmanships. The 251 favorable votes cast Wednesday are more than a majority of the total House.

The 31-year Democratic legislator from East St. Louis also is chairman of the Joint House-Senate Committee on Atomic Energy.

He plans to relinquish his post as head of the House Committee on Standards of Official Conduct due to his selection to lead the Armed Services unit, but will retain the Atomic Energy assignment.

Price commented, "I am proud of the vote of confidence and at the same time recognize the responsibility I must now assume in directing the activities of the committee charged with providing for the nation's defense."

"I intend to do all I can to maintain our national security. With the duty comes the responsibility, particularly important under current economic conditions, to see that the tax dollars of the American public are used wisely."

City backs SIUE as expo host site

Granite City officials have abandoned any effort to seek construction of the new Exposition and Arts Authority Center here and have endorsed the proposed center site at the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The City Council delayed action two weeks ago on a recommendation by Alderman Gerald Farney that the city go on record endorsing the SIUE site for the Convention Center after Alderman Ronald Coleman suggested the city look into the possibility of proposing a local site.

Resolution stating that construction of the center at SIUE would "best serve the public purpose" was approved unanimously by the council Monday night without comment or discussion.

Text of the resolution follows: Whereas, the City Council and the mayor of the city of Granite City supports with enthusiasm the purpose accomplished by the statutory creation of the Metro-East Exposition and Arts Authority, and looks forward with enthusiasm to the creation of a Convention Center under the provisions of such legislation; and

Whereas, economy in government is necessary and sound social and economic reasoning leads to the inevitable conclusion that location of such a public facility on public land already available and not requiring expenditure of public funds for purchase and located in a complex which guarantees public use best serves the public purpose; and

Whereas, the City Council and the mayor of the city of Granite City believe the purpose of the legislation can best be accomplished by location of the Convention Center on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville; and

Whereas, the officials of the city of Granite City wish to record their support of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville location and to further expending of public funds for purchase and located in a university complex which guarantees public use best serves the public purpose sought to be accomplished by the legislation.

The city clerk of the city of Granite City is hereby authorized and directed to forward a certified copy of this resolution to Governor Danis Walker of the state of Illinois for his information.

Burglar may be wounded

Authorities are searching for a young man who may have been struck by a police bullet as he fled from a burglary at Reese Drugs in the Belleme Village Shopping Center at 12:30 a.m. today.

A burglar broke the lower glass panel of the entrance door on the southwest corner of the building and entered the prescription section of the store.

He was believed to have pulled an assortment of drugs and other items from one shelf into a bag and then fled from the building.

The city clerk of the city of Granite City was triggered when the door glass was broken and Granite City police responded, sending squad cars to the scene.

When one police car arrived at the rear of the store, the officer reported seeing a young man running from the rear of MRS. GERALD DAVIS, the former Miss Debora A. Graville, who was married in an evening ceremony at the First Baptist Church in Madison. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Graville, 722 Washington Ave., Madison.

MR. AND MRS. FRANK DERNER JR., whose wedding took place at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Madison. The bride is the former Miss Joyce C. Mossa, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Mossa, 1535 Sixth St., Madison.

Derner-Mossa nuptials at St. Mary's Church

Miss Joyce C. Mossa, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Mossa, 1535 Sixth St., Madison, became the bride of Frank L. Derner Jr., a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Derner Sr., 901 Washington Ave., Madison, on Nov. 30 at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church.

Officiating at the 11 a.m. double ring ceremony at the Madison church was the Rev. Conrad Motola. Pyramid bouquets of orange and bronze mums were arranged with burning tapers in tall bronze holders on the altar.

A reception was held at the Croatian Home, Madison, following the service.

Prior to the ceremony, James Havernak sang "Joy," a melody from the "Nutcracker Suite" and "On This Day O'Beautiful Mother."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose a long gown of white organza over taffeta, complemented with a melody length, lace bordered veil attached to a Juliet lace cap.

Venise lace edged the high neckline and cuffs of the long sleeves and formed a wide front panel on the skirt. The chapel train was bordered with a ruffle of matching lace.

She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, baby's breath and stephanotis.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Terri Batton, a sister of the bride. Bridesmaids included Miss Alene Mossa, also a sister, Miss Linda Derner, the groom's sister, Mrs. Mary Kreher, Mrs. Debra Uherick and Mrs. Sherri Guardolia.

The attendants selected formal length halter dresses in apricot double knit worn with matching bolero jackets.

Miss Debora Graville and Gerald H. Davis are wed

The First Baptist Church in Madison was the scene of the evening wedding on Dec. 21 of Miss Debora A. Graville, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Graville, 722 Washington Ave., Madison, and Gerald H. Davis, 1455 Oriole Place, Brentwood, Mo.

Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Davis, reside in Paducah, Ky.

The Rev. Paul J. Davis performed the double ring ceremony at seven o'clock before an altar banked with poinsettias and flanked with candelabra holding burning tapers.

Christmas greenery decorated the aisle standards, with candles which illuminated the sanctuary.

Organist Miss Elizabeth Ann Ledbetter accompanied James Hargrave, who sang "The Wedding Song" and "God Bless This Marriage."

Escorted down the white carpeted aisle and given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Graville wore a full length white velvet gown designed with an Empire bodice and slightly full skirt, extending into a cathedral train.

Venise lace edged the stand-up collar and accented the long bishop sleeves.

She wore a velvet Juliet cap appliqued with matching lace to secure her melody length veil, bordered with decorative lace.

the store into the rear parking lot.
The officer said he sped in the police car toward the youth, attempting to pull in front of him, but the boy ran into a yard behind the parking lot before the squad car could reach him.
The officer then reported getting out of the squad car and firing one warning shot toward Carlson Avenue and near the youth. When the shot rang out, the youth threw a bag into the air and fell down.
He then got to his feet and jumped over a fence between two yards. The officer then fired a second shot directly at the young man and reported he fell down, and then got to his feet and continued to run, falling several times.
Officers searched the area carefully but were unable to locate the youth. They found the bag he threw into the air and discovered it contained drugs and other items taken from the prescription area of the drug store.
Inside the bag was about 50 containers of assorted drugs, medications, barbiturates, boric acid and other items.

which are linked to the Tri-City Port.

"We will provide all storage space, handling equipment, scales, barge and rail facilities, labor and financing to build and operate the terminal. It will continue in operation as a public port facility."

"As a team utilizing one contract, we can achieve sizeable savings and pass them along to consumers."

"To proceed within a short period of time, we will need to work with one supplier. We have no preference; the supplier will be whichever the majority decides upon. Once in operation, we expect to be able to handle any and all coal that industries wish to bring here."

"The Tri-City Port is serviced by the Illinois Terminal Railroad, which makes direct connections with seven major railroads, many of which haul Western coal."

Individual meetings are to be held with interested parties on early February to pinpoint tonnage requirements. If the combined tonnage is sufficient, exact costs will be determined, contracts signed and equipment ordered.

Hagard said a wide cross-section of firms was contacted but that any other plants utilizing coal also can be accommodated and are invited to get in touch with the Port District.

Honor top auto race drivers Saturday

An estimated 1,000 members of the auto racing fraternity are expected to attend Saturday the St. Louis Auto Racing Fan Club's eighth annual "Banquet of Champions."

The event will be held at the Red Carpet Inn, 4690 North Lindbergh, beginning at 7 p.m. United States Auto Club statistician and historian Donald Davidson of Indiana will serve as guest speaker and master-of-ceremonies.

Making award presentations to 14 area track champions and eight rookie motorsport drivers will be Julie Rosen, Miss STP of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Cheryl Rae, Miss St. Louis Auto Racing Fan Club, of St. Charles, Mo.

Special awards to be presented are the Dale Mueller Memorial Media Award and the Curt Lehman Memorial Sportsmanship Award. Davidson, born in England, became interested in Grand Prix racing at the age of 12 and has earned the title of "Mr. Encyclopedia" because of his ability to memorize complete results of every Indianapolis 500-mile race since 1911.

He is the author of numerous magazine articles and has made contributions to several books written about the sport of auto racing.

Miss Rosen, a graduate of the University of Kentucky and a former sales manager, was recently employed to represent the national auto supply firm at public events. Cheryl Rae, former trophy queen here at Tri-City Speedway, is a volunteer representative of the fan club at local and national racing events.

Among those to be honored for their feats during the 1974 motorsport season are Missouri's Len Gittermeier and Rod Bailey of Granite City.

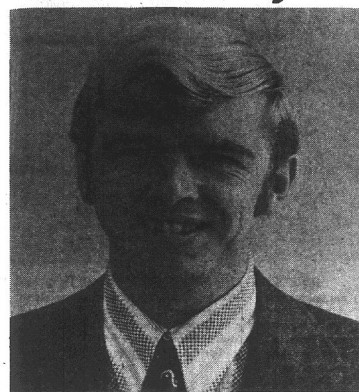

Gittermeier earned the Tri-City Speedway track title in late model stock car competition. Bailey piloted his sportsman class stock car to that division's championship here during the past season.

Other award recipients will include: Pat Walsh and Russ Wallace, Lake Hill Speedway; Bob Geaschel and Tom Hadley, Southwestern Auto Racing Association; Kenny Shrum and Mike Hammerle, Allied Auto Racing Association.

Danny Frye Jr., St. Louis Midget Association; Bill Utz, Capital Racing Association; Tom Primas, Quarter Midget Association; Mack Yates, Sports Car Club of America; and Bobby Jones, four-time victor of special sprint car programs at Tri-City Speedway.

Seven rookie drivers will be cited, including Dr. Amado Ortillo of the Sports Car Club of America, St. Louis Region.

Tickets can be purchased at the door at a cost of $10 a person, or by contacting William Guth, president of the club, at 931-4611.

Steelers turn back Althoff, meet West in semifinal game

Granite City High School North kept its hopes of capturing a basketball tournament title alive Tuesday, with a 55-41 victory over Belleville Althoff in first-round action of the Belleville East tournament.

The win advanced the Steelers to an 8:30 p.m. semifinal confrontation today with Belleville West. The West Maroons defeated O'Fallon 47 on Tuesday.

O'Fallon and Althoff play each other at 7 o'clock this evening in a consolation contest.

North showed the Crusaders little mercy in the first half, taking a 16-9 first-quarter lead and stretching the margin to 31-17 at halftime.

The Steeler defense blocked Althoff's inside passing lane to Al Alberter, holding the capable 6-1 senior to only two points in the first half.

North again pulled away in the last quarter, outscoring Althoff, 14-6.

Alberter was the only Crusader to score in double figures, tallying 20 points in the contest aided by his third-period spree.

North's Mike Waldo, who totaled 16 points, earned half of his team's crucial fourth-period points with two field goals and three foul shots.

GCHS North shot 49 per cent from the field, making good 25 of 51 attempts, but only 33 per cent from the foul line, hitting on five of 15. Althoff meshed 16 of 38 field goal attempts and nine of 18 charity tosses.

North committed the fewest fouls, 12-18, and turnovers, 14-16.

The Steelers controlled the boards, pulling down 30 rebounds to Althoff's 21.

Other than Waldo, scoring for North were: Greg Gansen 13, Larry Jones 12, Darrell Page eight, Gene Logas four and Rich Sparlock two.

Belleville East and Murphysboro resumed first-round action yesterday. That contest was followed with Triad meeting Cahokia last night.

Losers of yesterday's contests will play at 7 p.m. tomorrow, and the winners meet tomorrow in an 8:30 p.m. clash.

At 1 p.m. Saturday, losers of tonight's and Friday's consolation games will play for third place in that bracket. At 2:30 p.m. Saturday, winners of tonight's and tomorrow's consolation games will meet for consolation honors.

The third-place consolation contest will be held at 7 p.m. Saturday between the losers of tonight's North-West contest and tomorrow's 8:30 p.m. championship-bracket game. The loser of tonight's North-West game and the victor of tomorrow's 8:30 p.m. contest will meet to decide the tournament champion at 8:30 p.m. Saturday at Belleville East.

Volleyball team loses super-sectional contest

The 1974-75 girls' volleyball season came to an abrupt end Tuesday for the Granite City High School South team with 15-13 and 15-13 losses to Red Bud in the Illinois High School Association super-sectional at Mount Olive.

South, leading 13-10, was close to winning the first contest, but a late rally by the ladies defeated the threat.

South's young ladies produced a successful season with a 9-2 record, including district and sectional titles. At the Roxana district meet, South defeated the hosts 15-11 and 15-8, and won 15-7 and 15-11 over Edwardsville. South then claimed the title with 15-11 and 15-13 wins over Wood River on Jan. 11.

The local team advanced to the Mount Olive meet after winning the Hillsboro sectional crown by defeating Northwestern High School 15-3 and 15-3 on Jan. 17.

Warrior five fights hard but loses to Centralia in meet

"GCHS South surprised every one here," remarked a Salem High School spokesman. "We expected Centralia to win by 20 or 30 points, but the Warriors gave the Orphans a real battle."

South's Warriors bowed to top-seeded Centralia 68-56 last night in first-round competition of the Salem cage tournament. South now will meet Fairfield in a consolation contest at 12:30 p.m. Saturday. Fairfield was defeated 61-40 by Breese Mater Dei last night.

Thirteen first-half turnovers hurt the Warriors' effort, but they still kept within striking range of the Orphans. Centralia led 14-9, 31-28 and 49-38 at the quarters and edged South 19-18 in the final period. South made 22 of 39 field goal attempts, and 12 of 22 foul shots. Centralia hit 23 of 71 from the field and 10 of 16 from the charity stripe.

fouls, 17-18, but was hampered by turnovers, 23-13.

The Warriors' rebounding was on the boards, recovering 26 rebounds to the victors' 24. Ken Bertrand snared 13 of South's rebounds. Five Warriors earned points: Bertrand 15, Rick Fancher and Ken Nolan 12 each, Bob Hutchings 11 and Tom Schooley, six.

Mount Vernon and Carlyle play at 7 o'clock this evening and Effingham and the host school meet at 8:30. The losers of the two contests will meet in the consolation bracket at 2 p.m. Saturday.

A victory Saturday over Fairfield would put GCHS South in the 7:30 p.m. Saturday consolation title contest against the winner of Saturday's 2 p.m. consolation game.

Mathias heads industrial group

Carl Mathias, service area manager for Illinois Power Co. in Granite City, was installed as president of Illinois Metro-East, Inc. during a meeting in Collinsville Wednesday.

Harold Fischer, vice-chairman of First Granite City National Bank, also was re-installed as a director of the organization.

Illinois Metro-East is a non-profit organization which promotes the Madison St. Clair county area as a good place for new business to locate. It also provides services for businesses and industries which are making plans for expansion.

Richard Dykes, who was elected secretary of the board and executive director of the organization, delivered the annual report, noting that there were 16 major industrial developments in the two-county area during 1974 which represented a capital investment of about $24 million.

"While there were not that many new jobs created, it is important to realize these developments do represent considerable capital investment which suggests these industries and businesses have confidence in this area and that in two or three years, we can begin to see more job expansion," Dykes told the gathering.

Mathias succeeds as president Bill Boyne, general manager of the Metro-East Journal. James Johnson, airport manager of Bethalto Civic Memorial Airport, was named vice-president of Illinois Metro-East. The new treasurer is Arthur Booker, chairman of the executive committee of Edwardsville National Bank.

Two new directors were named to three-year terms on the board. They are Delmar Valine of the First National Bank in East St. Louis and Clyde Wiseman of the Wood River Township Chamber of Commerce.

Directors re-elected to three-year terms are: Fischer; George Sherman of the Illinois Valley Chamber of Commerce; Arthur Booker of the Edwardsville National Bank; William Osborn of Germania Federal Savings & Loan Association; Alton; and Thomas Wangelin of Citizens' Savings, Belleville.

News Notes

Accelerated spending proposed Wednesday by Gov. Daniel Walker includes a faster start on a $15 million civic center in Madison St. Clair Counties, more state funds for certain public school construction programs, more money hiring through expedited highway and capital development projects, and a speed-up in establishment of a new East St. Louis community college campus. State Comptroller George W. Lindberg assailed the governor's $4 billion public works proposal as "mortgaging our children to offset a temporary 1.4 per cent rise in Illinois unemployment."

The St. Louis United Fund caught up with this community's action of two years ago by changing Wednesday to a United Way designation.

Consumer prices in the St. Louis metropolitan area climbed 1.1 per cent in 1974, or more than one per cent less than the national increase.

J. Homer Kennedy resigned Jan. 15 as president of the Edwardsville National Bank, it was announced Tuesday. A successor has not yet been chosen.

Tentative agreement was reached early today to settle a

A $1 donation will be asked for Sunday's lunch, with the proceeds to be sent to the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Hunger, according to the Rev. Wilbur L. Rear, rector.

Brief reports from each organization within the parish and an address by the Rev. Rear will be featured at the annual assembly.

Among those to be elected from the congregation are three members to the parish vestry, two delegates to the new Western Deanery and three delegates to the Diocesan Synod.

Further information about the parish-wide meeting may be obtained by calling 876-7245 or 876-9097, the Rev. Rear advised.

Fifteen candidates were certified Tuesday to the state court administrator and will be voted on by local circuit judges to fill two associate judge vacancies.

Cong. Melvin Price has introduced a bill to bypass a current federal court injunction delaying replacement of the Alton locks and dam.

Gov. Walker signed a new law Tuesday to transfer $45 acres of Alton State Hospital land to the City of Alton for a park.

Amsted Industries, parent firm of the American Steel Foundries plant here, on Tuesday reported $8,770,000 net income in its first fiscal quarter, ended Dec. 31. The figure is up $2,215,000 from October-December 1973.

March of Dimes drive starts

Mrs. Glen Chaboude, chairman of the Granite City March of Dimes Committee, has announced the appointment of several local residents to lead the 1975 fund-raising drive to fight birth defects. The campaign is being conducted this month in the community.

Those heading various divisions, include: Mrs. Ellis Herring, Mothers March chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Luebbsen, special events; Mrs. Calvin Lazenby Jr., school solicitations; Mrs. Ray McDonald, special gifts; and Miss Barbara Watz, canister distribution to business firms.

Harry Cook Jr., student council advisor at Granite City High School North, again will serve as Walkathon chairman, Mrs. Chaboude said.

Allen Jessee, executive vice president, Granite City Trust & Savings Bank, is drive treasurer.

Mrs. Chaboude said the goal of the National March of Dimes Foundation is to search out the secrets of genetics and environmental diseases that cut short or grievously impair the lives of thousands of children and to give every baby its birthright — the right to a healthy vigorous start in life — with a program of prevention.

This goal can be accomplished through research, prenatal care, education and treatment, the campaign chairman said, but only with the generous help of the community.

Further plans for the current drive shortly will be announced, Mrs. Chaboude said.

Services held for F. W. Donati

Funeral services were to be held this morning at a Collinsville funeral home for Frank W. Donati, 77, of Collinsville, who died Tuesday at his home.

He was a retired employe of Granite City Steel. He leaves his wife, a stepson, six sisters and three brothers.

Cong. Price backs Ford energy plan

Cong. Melvin Price (D-23rd Ill.) reports he strongly supports the President's plans for continued energy research.

In a letter to President Ford, Cong. Price said, "I listened with great interest and applauded your State of the Union message to the people of our country. I am particularly pleased with the emphasis you have placed on the development of nuclear power for our nation."

The President's program outlined in the State of the Union calls in part for a goal of 200 major nuclear power plants in the next decade.

Cong. Price, chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, said that the committee is particularly interested in the development of designated "power parks" for construction of future nuclear power facilities. These parks would contain the power plants as well as fuel fabrication facilities, waste storage facilities and a fuel reprocessing capability to achieve maximum utilization of energy assets.

"The scope and magnitude of the economic and energy crises that our nation faces today causes me grave concern. The President's suggestions to meet this challenge are constructive and merit the deepest consideration by the Congress."

Intense pressure on U. S. legal system

The country's rising crime rate, the sagging economy and public distrust in government are placing severe pressure on the American legal system, Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott believes.

"In our last period of extreme national distress, the mid-1960s conflict over civil rights and Vietnam, our legal system measured up to an unprecedented challenge and the nation moved ahead," Scott told the Chicago Chapter of the Federal Bar Association. "We must do as well again."

He stressed that "violence is an urban disease. Chicago had 970 murders last year — 100 more than in 1973 — and 121 of those were motiveless murders — killing for the sake of killing."

"Contributing to this record of violence are the problems plaguing the national economy. The Illinois attorney general said. He voiced concern over the pressures on the country's economic system — "6.5 million unemployed, plus temporary closings, and bankruptcies up almost one-third over last year."

Byproducts of the economic downturn, Scott said, are an increase in white-collar crimes and a backlash against environmental control.

"These serious trends come at a time of public distrust toward government evidenced by voter apathy in the last election when only half the registered voters went to the polls," Scott said.

"Yet, it is at just such times, when our economic and political systems strain under such enormous pressures, that our legal system must meet the test."

Scott told the lawyers' dinner, honoring the federal judiciary and newly appointed judges of

Youngsters hurt

Two persons were released from St. Elizabeth Hospital after treatment of injuries suffered in an auto accident at 8:42 a.m. Monday at Wilson and Myrtle avenues, in which an auto driven by Earl D. Byrd, 38½ "B" St., and that of Connie J. Orabod, 2924 Willow Ave., collided.

Treated were Joseph Zimmerman, 9, and Earl Zimmerman, 6, both of 2808 Willow Ave. Joseph suffered a nose injury. Earl received facial contusions. Both were passengers in the Byrd vehicle.

Particle discoveries to be topic tomorrow

Discovery of two fundamental particles not suspected to exist will be discussed Friday by Had. A. Ay, physics professor at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, at a meeting of the SIUE club of Sigma Xi, honorary scientific research organization.

Aly will be the principal speaker at the meeting, which is scheduled from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. tomorrow in Room 6210 of the SIUE Science Building.

Aly said the particles, confirmed in experiments by a group of Italian scientists, were produced from a collision of a beam of negative electrons with a beam of positive electrons.

The first particle, called "psi," was discovered in research conducted at Stanford University. The second, labeled "J," was isolated in research at Brookhaven National Laboratory, Long Island, N. Y.

The two particles are similar and now are considered as one, according to the SIUE physicist. He said the discovery is "exciting because the particles were never suspected to exist and were found in large masses, approximately three and one-half times as heavy as a proton, which is the atomic nucleus of hydrogen."

Aly said, "It is quite conceivable that a new family of particles may be discovered in the same mass region or even higher, adding more to the highly complex phenomenon of fundamental particles."

The scientist explained that researchers have suspected for many years that "gravitation, weak electromagnetic and strong forces may well have similar origins in nature."

"Scientists have been looking for the unified theory of all these forces from the time of Einstein until now," Aly continued. "It recently was suspected that at least the weak and electromagnetic forces may have similar behavior at very small distances, namely distances comparable to all shorter than inter-nuclear distances."

"These forces to be propagated, researchers need a courier particle of very large mass, at least a few times as heavy as the proton."

"When psi was discovered, scientists thought it might be a good candidate for the courier particle required, but this is not as yet a completely acceptable proposition."

Aly said he will discuss in detail at the Sigma Xi meeting his hopes for the new discoveries and the impact of the research on related scientific studies.

A native of Bagdad, Iraq, Aly received his B.S. degree in physics and his M.S. in mathematics from the University of California, and his Ph.D. in physics at the University of Bristol, England. He has been a member of the SIUE faculty since 1969.

Central Christian scene of Aerne-Hanson wedding

The wedding of Miss Laura Aerne, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Hanson, 40 Lou Juan Hills, Edwardsville, and Martin Lee Aerne, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Aerne, 1609 Garfield Ave., was solemnized on Jan. 18 at Central Christian Church.

Basket bouquets of mums in variegated shades of pink intermingled with baby's breath and greenery and burning tapers in branched candelabra provided the setting for the double ring ceremony performed at 7 o'clock in the evening by Dr. L. Jim Antis.

Nuptial selections, including "Fantasia," "Largo," "Suite Gothique," "Be Thou With Them" and "The Lord's Prayer," were played by the organist, Mrs. Joseph E. Owens Jr. The soloist was Mrs. Joseph C. Bulbreay.

A full length gown of Chantilly lace, edged with crystals and seed pearls and featuring a bouffant tiered skirt, was worn by the bride.

Long tapered sleeves were set into the molded bodice, designed with a Sabrina neckline and natural waistline. The layered lace skirt, extending into a chapel train, was created with a decorative front panel.

Her lace headpiece was embellished with pearls and secured a melody length veil of bridal illusion. She held an old-world style bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and baby's breath, festooned with lace streamers.

Attending the bride were Miss Maryanne Darnan, honor attendant, and Miss Margaret Massa and Miss Diane Parrish, bridesmaids.

They wore Empire style gowns of Kelly green polyester, enhanced with white lace on the standup collars and shepherdess sleeves. A self-fabric sashes encircled the waistline, tying at the back of the A-line skirts.

Each attendant carried an arrangement of pink, red, and yellow Sweetheart roses with baby's breath and trailing ivy and long streamers.

Mark Hellreich served as best man. Matthew Hanson, a brother of the bride and Rex Waggoner, were groomsmen. Seating the guests were William Ogden and Allen Collins, a cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Hanson, mother of the bride, selected a yellow polyester A-line style gown made with puff sleeves gathered at the wrists with wide cuffs and a jewel neckline.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Aerne, was attired in a green floral silk organza, full length, dress fashioned with fitted bodice, V-neckline traced with a self fabric ruffle and long sleeves.

Both mothers wore white cymbidium orchids encircled with a tiny garland of green lace.

Guests were received by the bride couple at a reception held in the church fellowship hall following the ceremony.

Members of the wedding party were entertained at a rehearsal dinner at Charlie's Restaurant.

A graduate of Collinsville High School, the bride presently is attending Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Her husband is employed as a salesman for Farah Corp., St. Louis. He was graduated from Granite City High School.

They are now residing in St. Louis.

Assemblies conference here

The Rev. Charles E. Greenaway, noted missions speaker and the field secretary for Eurasia for the Assemblies of God, will be the night speaker at the Illinois District Council Mid-Winter Prayer and Bible Conference to be held at Tri-City Park Assembly of God in Granite City, on Jan. 27, 28 and 29, the Rev. Richard W. Dortch, district superintendent, announced.

A missionary career in Africa and Europe and an inspirational preaching style have made Greenaway one of the most sought-after missions preachers in America today, Rev. Dortch said. His unique ministry and thorough dedication to world evangelization have led many young ministers into full-time missionary service, he added.

As field secretary for Eurasia, Rev. Greenaway constantly travels in the countries under his supervision. His position and experience make him one of the leading authorities on the state of Protestant churches in Russia and other communist countries of Eastern Europe.

Rev. Greenaway worked many years in French-speaking countries before accepting his present position. His overseas ministry began in 1941 in Upper Volta, West Africa, where he and his wife, Mary, worked among the Mossi tribe. In 1949 they went to Togo-Dahomey, where he served as field superintendent and principal of the Bible School.

Rev. and Mrs. Greenaway also were the pioneer missionaries of the Assemblies of God mission to Senegal. For many years the country of Senegal, with approximately four million unevangelized people, was a special concern to Rev. Greenaway. In 1956 he obtained permission from the High Commissioner of French West Africa for the Assemblies of God to enter the country on a trial basis. The church has a thriving work in Senegal today.

Beginning in 1960, he served on a special assignment as field representative for what is now called Good News Crusades—a mass evangelism program. In 1962 he was appointed resident secretary for the Assemblies of God in Europe. Then, in 1966 his responsibilities were broadened to include his present administrative duties.

The three-day conference will be the fourth annual Mid-Winter Conference, and is open to everyone. The morning speaker for the Tuesday and Wednesday morning services will be the Rev. Bernard Minton, a renowned Bible scholar. He has been called a "walking Bible."

Rev. Minton teaches prophecy from a large chart. The service schedule is: Monday, Jan. 27, 7:30 p.m.; Tuesday, Jan. 28, 9:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.; Wednesday, Jan. 29, 9:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

MOBILE HOME FIRE

Long Lake firemen were called at 2:05 p.m. Monday to the mobile home of Don Kelley, Lot 140, Village Green Mobile Park, where a heat insulation tape wrapped around a pipe to the water heater under the trailer caught fire. Firemen estimated damage at $25.

4 per cent raises by county

All county department heads appointed by the Madison County Board were granted four per cent pay increases by action of the board Wednesday.

The board formerly declined action on the pay increases, referring the resolution to the Finance and Personnel committees for study and a recommendation.

At Wednesday's regular county board meeting, members were informed that both committees had recommended placing the department heads under contracts which grant the four per cent increases and which expire annually, allowing individual pay rates to be re-examined each year. The board concurred in the recommendation.

The board approved an ordinance to amend the Liquor Control Ordinance of 1973. The amendment is to allow 18-year-olds to work in and serve liquor in establishments where beer and wine may legally be served to 19-year-olds.

A recent state law lowered the drinking age for beer and wine from 21 to 19 years, but 18- and 19-year-olds still could not serve the beverages.

A question arose whether the board's action Wednesday was a final action or whether it had to be considered as first reading and had to be presented again to the board next month for final passage.

The Madison County State's Attorney's office was requested to investigate and to announce an opinion whether the amendment is to go into effect immediately or whether additional action by the board is required.

The board declined to agree to an order of the Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs which granted the Madison County Board of Review an extension of up to 75 days to complete its work.

The Board of Review has been besieged with requests in review property assessments and previously obtained a 20-day extension from the county board. That extension expired Jan. 20.

The Board of Review then requested an extension from the state, since the county board was not to meet for two days after the extension expired.

Several county board members indicated they felt the 75 day extension would be too long. An extension until Feb. 20, one day after the next regular county board meeting, was approved.

It was indicated the county

Venice District lowers pupil cost, audit shows

Venice School District reduced its per capita student cost by $214 in the 1973-74 school year over the previous 12-month period, according to an audit of district funds by C. J. Schlosser

Gates down on W. Pontoon Rd.

Granite City police received numerous telephone calls yesterday morning from motorists who said traffic was being blocked at the West Pontoon Road railroad crossing near Nameoki Road by malfunctioning gates which were down.

Police notified the railroads at 9:25 a.m. of the malfunction, but continued to receive complaints. At 9:49 a.m. the railroads again were notified that traffic was being blocked by the gates and that nothing had been done to remedy the problem. The gates were repaired a short time later.

The crossing has been the scene of numerous accidents, including two fatal accidents caused by cars going around the gates.

Many motorists have commented that the gates are down so often with no train in sight that driving around the gates has become a common practice for persons who pass at that point daily.

would review the progress of the review board on a monthly basis and would grant only one-month extensions if necessary. The board approved the county participating in a Comprehensive Transportation Planning Program being conducted by the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council. The county's cost will be eight cents per capita, a total of $20,075.

& Associates of Alton. An audit summary, presented at the Venice School Board meeting Monday night, listed per capita student cost in the 1972-73 school year as $2,023, compared to $1,808 last year. Instructional expenses also declined by $78 per student, the report said.

Efforts made by the board and school administrators in cutting back general operating expenses and decreasing expenditures for salaries were cited in explaining the cost reduction.

The lower per capita figure was obtained by the Venice District despite salaries and service costs climbing sharply, while revenue declined within the past three years, it was noted.

In other business, board members were advised that candidates for three bus driver-mechanic jobs currently may apply at Venice-Lincoln Technical Center.

The jobs became available when the Venice-Lincoln center secured three buses from the state-operated adult education school at Eldorado, Ill., which was closed last year.

Qualifying tests for candidates are being arranged this week and further information concerning the openings may be obtained by calling K. Duane Rankin, Venice-Lincoln administrator, at 876-7792, or apply in person at the center on South 4th Street, Venice.

Jail trustee commended for fighting fire

Mitchell E. Coleman, 24, East St. Louis, a former Venice resident, received a letter of commendation this week from Madison County Sheriff John Maeras for discovering a fire in the county jail Saturday and helping to put it out.

Coleman, who is being held on three charges of robbery, is a trustee and is not locked in his cell, although he is to remain in the jail cell area.

He was reported to have discovered the fire, called to the jailers for assistance, and then grabbed two fire extinguishers with which he helped put out the fire.

The fire was believed started by other prisoners using a mattress and some scraps. The prisoners said they thought they would be taken to a hospital if they were burned.

In a letter to Coleman, Maeras thanked him for "prompt action," which was not obligated to take. "I find it commendable that you would voluntarily act in such an immediate fashion to insure the safety of the sheriff's department personnel and prisoners."

Windows shot out; 3 arrested

Three men were arrested at a Granite City tavern Monday night following incidents in which windows of two West Granite homes were shattered by shotgun blasts within a one-hour period.

Harry L. White, 24, of 1748 Poplar St., was charged with unlawful use of a weapon, lack of firearm identification and criminal damage to property. Leonard D. Johnson, 24, of 2118 Washington Ave., and Nicholas E. Kiseleka, 34, of 1849 Olive St., were charged with criminal damage to property.

Authorities said they arrested the trio inside the tavern about 10 p.m. Monday after they saw a pickup truck belonging to White. Police said the truck fit the description of one seen leaving the scene of a shooting 15 minutes earlier at the home of Mary Morris, 1728 Chestnut St.

It was reported at 8:47 p.m., by Georgia Jackson, 1722 Chestnut St., that she was watching television when she heard a loud blast and a window break in her home.

A .16 gauge shotgun was found inside White's truck with a freshly-spent shell still in the chamber. It was confiscated as evidence, police said.

SIUE group names officers

At its recent organizational meeting, the newly-formed Parents' Association of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville elected Ted Bennett Sr. of Edwardsville as president, George Gordon of Alton as vice-president and Mrs. Joseph Holtzschger of Granite City as secretary.

The primary purpose of the association is to provide its members with a means of personal communication with the university, Bennett said.

In addition, it is designed to give parents an opportunity to present ideas and make suggestions to the university for the betterment of the students and the university, he added.

Bennett stressed that the association is not a social club, but is an opportunity for parents to express their opinions.

Quarterly meetings are being planned. Parents or spouses of SIUE students are being invited to join the association. They may contact any of the officers or Jim Rotter, Coordinator of New Student Life at the university, at 1-402-2686, the club's new president disclosed.

'Common Cause' to lobby for more state issues

The main concern within the "Common Cause" organization is how to promote issues at the state level, according to Dr. Robert Erickson, professor of history at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville who spoke at the Tuesday noon meeting of the Granite City Rotary club.

Dr. Erickson is the 23rd Congressional District co-ordinator for the citizen lobby group known as Common Cause, which has a national membership of 350,000 and is headquartered in Washington, D. C.

The citizens' lobby was started by John Gardner in 1970. The membership frequently is polled to determine the issues of prime concern among the membership. National issues in which the organization has played a major role, according to Dr. Erickson, include the 18-year-old vote, campaign disclosure laws and election reform bills. The group currently is working toward legislation that would control groups such as theirs, so that lobby groups would play more of a legitimate role.

According to the speaker, many of their members think the organization should become more concerned with state issues, in addition to the national issues.

Rotary President Walter Milton appointed Rotarian Joseph P. Millitello chairman, and Ernest A. Karandeff Jr. as co-chairman of the joint Rotary-Optimist Carpool auction which will be held in October.

Christ R. Paschoff announced that he is transferring his membership to the Madison-Venice Rotary club.

Milton announced that a musical program under the direction of Rotarian Louis E. Meek will be presented next week.

GC rejects no-parking ordinance

The Granite City Council by a vote of 7 to 5 defeated Monday night an ordinance that would have established a no parking zone at 29th and Iowa streets. The council also held over until its next meeting an ordinance proposing a no parking zone in the 2100 block of State Street. Council members rejected the no parking area at 29th and Iowa after a representative of the Razor's Edge Barber Shop told the aldermen the bill would eliminate parking at a point which would seriously injure the barber shop's business. The ordinance would have established a no parking zone from 29th and Iowa north to the alley between Iowa Street and Washington Avenue on the northeast side of 29th. The other ordinance would have banned parking in the 2100 block of State Street on the west side of State for 190 feet from the northwest corner of the intersection of 21st and State. Action on that bill was deferred to give the aldermen more time to check into its purpose. Another ordinance fixing a penalty of $10 to $500 in fines for violation of traffic ordinances now in the City Code, except for those in which specific penalties already are set out, was enacted by the council.

Testimonial dinner for Eulalia Holz

Featured speakers will include Congressman Melvin Price, State Treasurer Alan Dixon, State Senator Sam Vadalabene, Buddy Davis of the United Steelworkers Union, Burton Bernard, Granite City attorney, Dr. Felicia Koch, local physician; Mrs. Josephine Oblinger, former Sangamon County clerk and presently president of the Illinois Federation of Republican Women.

Doctor's office is burglarized

A small quantity of drugs and syringes were stolen from the office of Dr. Reza S. Ashraf, 1415 Niedringhaus Ave., during a burglary discovered at 5:25 a.m. Tuesday. The center door to the office was forced open and the door glass removed. All the office desks and cabinets were ransacked. Police found a box of syringes on the floor of the hallway. A small quantity of drugs and a hammer were found later in a lot at the west side of the building. At 10 a.m. Wednesday, a young girl found another small bag of drugs in the 2100 block of Edison Avenue, also believed to have been taken from Dr. Ashraf's office.

TAKE ANTIQUE GUNS

Two antique rifles and an antique shotgun were stolen from upstairs bedroom at the home of Elmer Baumeier, 2004 Buxton Ave., it was reported at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday. The house was ransacked. Entry was gained by cutting a screen in the rear door and opening the door.

legislature and the people they are elected to serve. This became obvious in the two-week marathon to select a speaker of the House. The Statehouse — the House chamber, in particular — was a world of its own. William Redmond won on the 93rd ballot Tuesday afternoon.

It was tedious, boredom, arguing, some occasional uninspiring dramatics and seemingly unending roll calls during the Jan. 8-21 span. Yet, to some of those participating, it seemed to smack of fun and games. The various sides had their cheerleaders of wives, secretaries and Statehouse hangers-on. To them, points were scored when a rival's total votes went down, or those of a favored candidate went up. Watching, from time to time one had the impression that electing a speaker was less important than "stopping" or "getting" somebody else.

The lawmakers appeared blissfully unaware of a rising wave of public feeling rolling across Illinois. Even in Springfield, a block from the Capitol, one could hear little but "Have they done anything yet?" At the Statehouse, rival personalities were the dominant factor in the speaker fight. But an annoyed public was primarily concerned that somebody, almost anybody, be elected speaker so that the House could go about its business of lawmaking.

The man-in-the street may be vague about what a speaker of the House is supposed to do, but the every-two-years fight over selecting one has convinced him that the job is important. This year's struggle, more protracted, bitter and confused than in the past, came at an especially inappropriate time for the legislature. The recently concluded 1974 session was an exceptionally poor one as far as many taxpayers were concerned. About all anyone remembers about it, aside from constant bickering and confusion, was that the legislators once again raised their own pay.

Rarely, if perhaps ever in Illinois history, has the legislature and its membership been held in such low esteem. The slide in public respect has been under way for a number of years now, and in recent months it has gained momentum. What is perplexing to many students and observers of the legislature is that the individual members do not seem to be aware of the development, or, if they are, appear indifferent to it. Is there something in the atmosphere or mood of the Statehouse that veils lawmakers off from the views and attitudes of the people back home? Perhaps there is. Politics and power have always held a fascination for those in a position to indulge in them. Having a say in deciding an exciting contest like the speakership apparently does something to a man — or woman. Once caught up in the fever of legislative combat, a lawmaker may forget the voters back home. His immediate concern is more likely to be on efforts to wind up on the winning side. This world-within-a-world phenomena has effects beyond the choosing of leaders. It is also reflected in the enactment of ill-advised and unpopular legislation. Lawmakers may be spending too much time in Springfield, and this could be another argument for a return to biennial session. Maybe the legislators should spend more time back home finding out what voters really think. Perhaps then the communications gap would begin to narrow.

Venice zoning plan advances

Aldermen John Ervin, George Lewis and Thomas Voegel were appointed Tuesday night by Mayor William Miller Ebersold, with the approval of the Venice City Council, to a newly-formed Housing Standards Committee.

The action was taken after the council passed a resolution to amend the 1967 Municipal Code by adding the new committee.

The resolution is a preliminary step to adopting a housing code and zoning ordinance.

Members of the council, along with City Attorney Harry Hartman, are studying a similar code and ordinance adopted by the Madison Council in April 1974.

It was noted by Mayor Ebersold that such a code and ordinance are needed "to promote and protect the public health, safety and comfort, and for the general welfare of the people of Venice."

Adoption of the housing code and zoning ordinance is expected at the next council meeting.

Ebersold reported that the Community Development Committee met and set two priorities for the first year. The number one priority, which will cost about $1,400 will provide ambulance service for the city. In an emergency case, where the person has no insurance, or the ambulance service cannot be paid by some other means, the city will assist with the cost.

"The second area the committee feels will benefit the city is to make money available to the people of Venice, on a no-interest loan basis, to fix up their homes."

Neither plan would go into effect before August. The city expects to receive approximately $14,000 from a federal grant the first year for these projects. The money will be allocated by Madison County under the federal Community Development Act.

Civil Defense Director Benjamin Honorable reported, "We are now waiting for a final check from the federal government on our sewer repair work caused by the 1973 high water. We have received $215,000 and after the final audit should get about $59,500 more. We spent $274,541 on sewer repairs."

Mayor Ebersold commended Honorable, Jay D. Maurer, Carl Byrnes and Edward N. Juneau and council members for an outstanding job handling the sewer problems.

Ebersold said he has asked Jack Tolliver, city engineer, to look into the drainage problems on Fourth Street. Tolliver is to determine what can be done and the cost of repair work then report back to the council, Ebersold said.

"Work on our Broadway relocation project has come to a stop due to the high water table and what to do about it is being studied by the engineers," the mayor said. The Department of Transportation will need to make a decision on dewatering and this could be a major unforeseen cost factor. There is not much we as a council can do until the state figures out what it will do."

Chief of Police Ralph Brawley said, "We now have a new radar gun for catching speeders. It was delivered Monday and works like a charm." Brawley explained the device has a digital readout, a blinking speed lock and is accurate within one-half mile per hour with a 3,000 foot range. Chief Brawley said there will be a general "crack down" on speeders in Venice.

In other action, the council approved the December treasurer's report of the General Fund showing receipts of $127,756 and disbursements of $83,841 and approved expenses of $200 for Chief Brawley to attend the Illinois Association of Chiefs of Police meeting beginning Jan. 25 in Oak Brook, Ill.

Youth charged

John Koehler, 19, of 2139 Grand Ave., was charged with illegal possession of cannabis and theft after police stopped his auto in Granite City Tuesday. Officers said they found a bag of what they believe to be marijuana under the rear seat.

During questioning, Koehler was alleged to have made statements which led officers to charge him with theft in connection with a purse snatching Jan. 17. Mrs. Jerry Besserman said she was in the K-Mart parking lot when a youth grabbed her purse and ran.

Mrs. Krauskopf dies at 95

Mrs. Ida May Krauskopf, 95, a well known Quad-City resident, died at 3:25 p.m. Tuesday at the Colonades Nursing Home where she had been a resident three years.

Mrs. Krauskopf was born May 1, 1879, near Mitchell, the daughter of the late Michael F. and Margaret (Maber) Noonan. She attended Western Illinois State University at Macomb (Bushnell) and taught for six years in the public schools of Madison County.

She was married to Henry C. Krauskopf, a local farmer and business man, at the old St. Elizabeth's parish on Nov. 24, 1903. After her husband's death July 13, 1958, she moved to Granite City and later made her home with a son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph (Dorothy May) LeVora, 5208 River-Aire Drive, Godfrey.

Active in church affairs, she was a member of Sacred Heart Catholic Church, the Altar and Rosary Societies, the Victim Missionaries and Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows, Belleville.

Mrs. Krauskopf was a charter member of the Daughters of Union Veterans, Sarah Jane McEvers Tent 80, and also of the Trio Unit, Madison County Homemakers' Extension Association, Granite City.

In addition to her husband, she was preceded in death by a daughter, Hazel Irene.

Other survivors include a cousin, sister-in-law, niece and nephew.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Hurt in crash

The autos of Elizabeth Gargac, 4560 Edwardsville Road, and Gale Gant, 217 Greenway Drive, Mitchell, were involved in an auto accident at Nameoki Road and Leonard Avenue at 3:15 p.m. Tuesday.

After the collision, the Gant auto continued across the street and struck the storage shed of Rebecca Parrish, 3032 Washington Ave., damaging a corner of the shed.

Mrs. Mary Quilligan, 81, of 2304 Anchorage Drive, a passenger in the Gargac auto, was injured and was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for a swollen right knee. X-rays were taken and she was released.

TACO HUT THEFT

Five containers, each holding eight cans of soft drinks, were stolen from a shelf under the front counter of the Taco Hut, 2688 Madison Ave., it was reported at 8 a.m. Wednesday. The front window was broken with a rock, leaving a hole about 10 inches in diameter, through which the thief reached and brought out the soft drinks, it was reported.

Port District taking steps to aid metropolitan area in meeting stricter coal requirements this summer

An imaginative and timely proposal unveiled yesterday by the Tri-City Regional Port District may lead to substantial expansion of the local port's bulk commodity transfer facilities.

With many St. Louis metropolitan area industries faced with a need to shift to use of low-sulfur Western coal by July to meet federal environmental regulations, the Port District board has authorized its administration to meet with such firms.

If there is sufficient demand for the coal that is available in states like Wyoming and Utah, contracts will be signed by port officials with a number of coal users. Their combined needs then will be translated into orders for unit trains; 10,000-ton trainloads can be provided at much lower freight rates than would be possible when coal is ordered by individual cars or even multiple cars.

The proposal will be implemented promptly if it proves to be feasible. Dividends appear likely to include improved air quality in the St. Louis region, reduced shipping costs for many manufacturers, and a further affirmation and expansion of the Tri-City Port District's useful role.

Social Security trend could jeopardize some pensions

Commentary from Press-Record Washington Bureau—Without fully thinking the matter through, the 93rd Congress, which adjourned in December, approved large increases in the Social Security program.

The same Congress also passed the 1974 Employee Retirement Security Act which establishes federal standards for 50,000 pension plans offered independently of Social Security by private business.

The intention of both measures is to assure that persons who contributed to the progress of the United States during their productive years will have security and dignity in the twilight of their lives.

Unfortunately, it is becoming increasingly apparent that if the present trend in Social Security continues, the gains envisioned in private pension security may be far less than anticipated. Citizens may wind up with half measures or less in either program.

The problem faced by the Social Security program is plain:

The retirement benefits approved by Congress in recent years have outstripped the payroll taxes that have been levied to support the program.

Two recommendations have been made to correct the deficiency.

A private citizens' advisory council suggests that the wage base on which the 11.7 per cent Social Security tax is assessed be raised from the present $14,100 to about $24,000. The blue ribbon panel also recommends that retirement benefits be proportioned to wages that are earned.

On the other hand, Rep. James A. Burke, chairman of the House Social Security subcommittee, declares that Social Security taxes should be lowered to 3.9 per cent on both the employer and employee. He would fund the resulting deficit by dipping into general tax revenues.

The virtue of the citizens' council recommendation is that it proposes to turn Social Security back toward its original purpose of being a modest supplementary retirement program linked to earnings. Its flaw is that it would continue the upward tax and benefit spiral that Social Security which could threaten its soundness again in later years.

Rep. Burke's plan would forever lock Social Security into the federal pork barrel, and tax wage earners and their employers twice—once at the payroll window and the second time when they pay other federal taxes.

Both plans overlook a critical fact. Social Security taxes paid by employers are a part of their expenses of doing business.

The more the employer pays for the government program, the less he can afford to be generous with his private pension plan which is encouraged in the 1974 Employee Retirement Security Act.

Social Security is emerging as the dominant retirement plan instead of a supplementary one as originally planned. For millions of Americans, this means increasingly heavy payroll taxes. For millions of others, it means nothing more than a meager federal dole when they retire.

Oil cost feeds inflation, drains purchasing power

By U.S. SENATOR
CHARLES H. PERCY

For the past year, the oil-consuming nations of the world, rich and poor alike, have floundered in a sea of economic uncertainty.

The fourfold increase in the price of crude oil engineered by the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Nations—OPEC—has, without question, what has contributed most to this international economic instability.

In 1972 the OPEC nations earned $15 billion from their export of crude oil; in 1974 their estimated receipts exceed $85 billion.

The United States alone paid $25 billion for oil imports in 1974, versus $3.6 billion in 1972.

These dizzying price rises constitute an enormous "excise" tax on oil-consuming nations; simultaneously, they have led the fire of inflation and drained purchasing power from the consumers.

By working together, the oil-consuming nations may be able to bring down the world price of oil by dramatically reducing worldwide consumption far below the present rate of OPEC production. The United States must lead in this cooperative effort if only because we use more energy than any other nation.

"Volunteerism," I say so now with renewed conviction. There must be uniformity of sacrifice. And that can really only be accomplished by a specific, non-nonsense, national program.

I have proposed a series of specific mandatory energy conservation measures which, if enacted, will achieve at least a 10 per cent reduction in U.S. oil consumption, or almost 2 million barrels a day by the end of 1975.

One of my proposals, to extend indefinitely and adequately enforce the 55 miles-per-hour speed limit, has been introduced into law by the President.

My program for the coming year includes:

- A new fuel conservation tax on gasoline with rebates to consumers for essential driving.
- A new auto efficiency tax incentive program for new car purchases, which will spur development of more energy-efficient automobiles.

—Repeal of the federal income tax deduction now allowed for state and local gasoline taxes.

- Restrictions on commercial and industrial heating, cooling and lighting, and adoption of insulation standards for all new construction.

—Abolition of the highway trust fund to use its revenues for various types of transportation and other national needs.

Each of these presents some inequities and each risks unintended distortions in the economy.

But if the United States assumes leadership among the major oil importing nations by sharply reducing its oil imports, it will be clear to the OPEC countries that we view oil prices as our number one inflation problem, one we are committed to solve.

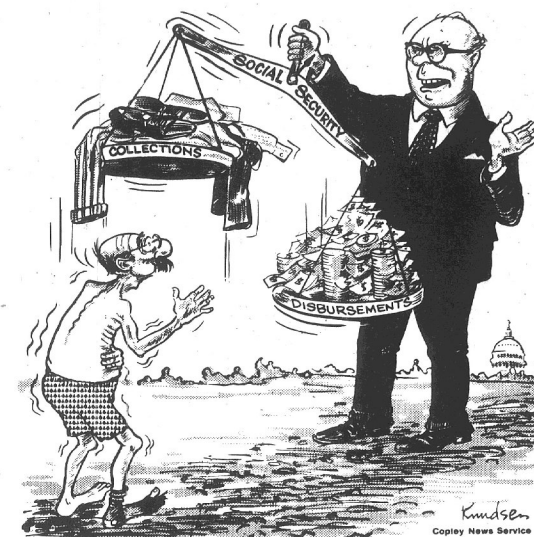

With the continuing economic problems confronting both the state and nation, a new economic impact bill will be introduced during the spring session.

A continued examination of environmental controls is needed in view of the energy shortages and raw material scarcities now confronting commerce and industry.

The proposed bill is expected to minimize or eliminate the major charges that caused the defeat last session of S. 589.

The concept set forth in that bill will be continued in the new version that also includes a balance between economic considerations and environmental quality needs.

"VARIANCE PROCEDURES—Also expected is legislation to amend the Environmental Protection Act to extend the time period variances must be considered by the Pollution Control Board from 90 to 180 days.

Talks help improve teaching methods

To the Editor:

The 26th annual meeting of the Illinois Council of Teachers of Mathematics was held on the campus of Northern Illinois University in DeKalb.

Nearly 2,000 teachers, kindergarten through college, gathered to hear such nationally known mathematics educators as Father Stanley Beuska, Lola May, George Immerzeel, Earl Ockenga, Marvin Bittinger and Richard Guy, as well as to attend more than 140 discussion groups, workshops and swappings.

Topics ranged from individualizing to games and darts, to space bubble mathematics.

This letter is to acknowledge the contribution of Irene Rhodes and Mary Trimmer, who led a session at the meeting.

To be invited to give an address reflects very favorably on the speaker's professional reputation. ICTM is grateful to have such people associated with its annual meeting.

Thoughtful trash collection staff

To the Editor:

I want to commend some people who don't get enough recognition—our trash collectors. These guys are great.

Imagine my horror one morning to crack open the front door, in very cold weather, and find my neatly bagged trash lying all over the street. Apparently, a neighbor's dog had been in my trash again. All of the bags were ripped open, and the contents strewn all over the place.

I was just putting on my coat to go out and re-bag it when along came the trash truck. The guys jumped out of the truck and picked up the whole mess. So I was pleased that I had to write and thank them.

Opposes 'impact statement' comments

To the Editor:

I feel I am about to speak out not only for myself but for hundreds of other Granite Cityans concerning the article, "Nobody gets to waive the impact statement."

I am a Christian, one who does not appreciate the references to God. He created this wonderful and unique Heaven and Earth. The article was nauseating.

He also created Hell for people who get kicks out of abusing the environment. There is more "pollution" in Hell than in Heaven.

Let me remind people that God is God. He can waive an impact statement should He choose.

There are other ways of getting a point across than mocking God.

MRS. ROSETTA HELVEY

Environmental issues on the rise

By RAYMOND BODNAR
Illinois State
Chamber of Commerce

Environmental control issues can be expected to increase during the 1975 legislative session.

New restrictions over air and water, noise and solid waste have resulted in an increased emphasis on all aspects of the environment.

Some that we can especially expect to see include:

ECONOMIC IMPACT LEGISLATION—In the past, the General Assembly has considered and defeated legislation to require the Illinois Institute for Environmental Quality to prepare economic impact studies of existing and proposed pollution control regulations.

With the continuing economic problems confronting both the state and nation, a new economic impact bill will be introduced during the spring session.

A continued examination of environmental controls is needed in view of the energy shortages and raw material scarcities now confronting commerce and industry.

The proposed bill is expected to minimize or eliminate the major charges that caused the defeat last session of S. 589.

The concept set forth in that bill will be continued in the new version that also includes a balance between economic considerations and environmental quality needs.

"VARIANCE PROCEDURES—Also expected is legislation to amend the Environmental Protection Act to extend the time period variances must be considered by the Pollution Control Board from 90 to 180 days.

In addition, if the board decides not to hear the petitioner's variance, it would automatically be denied.

This proposed amendment to the act has been strongly opposed by many and would not assure a petitioner of a day in court before the PCB.

Without such an incentive, petitions could go unheard without the petitioners having a chance to make a case.

This non-action could cause environmental controls to be installed of pollution control facilities and cause undue hardships on industry.

IMPACT STATEMENTS—We must also watch a bill to require each state agency to include an environmental impact statement with each report on proposed legislation, and recommendations for spending state funds significantly affecting the quality of the state's environment.

On the surface, this bill appears to have a minimal effect. Closer examination reveals that all companies doing business with the state would be subject to the preparation of such environmental impact statements. In addition, their suppliers may be affected.

RS—If the Illinois Pollution Control Board fails to adopt a container deposit regulation, a new container deposit bill will probably be introduced during the spring session.

Basically, the legislation would require a deposit on all beverage containers.

CLASS ACTION SUITS—Look for a bill to provide that any person as a member of a class can interfere in a matter before a state regulatory agency which substantially affects the public interest.

This form of legislation could open the door to many problems for commerce and industry, with possible undue harassment of companies.

PLANNING AND LAND USE—Although the federal Land Use Bill failed to pass Congress last year, legislative proposals reflecting the proposed federal legislation are expected to be considered at the state level.

Such bills have previously been introduced in Illinois, and similar proposals can be expected next year.

These may include those to establish a state-wide planning and land use management system.

Other may include the development of various regions and sub-regions throughout the state.

Winter Wonderland Faunt English if you want to but don't flout it

By BILL WINTER

Grammar: A kindly little old lady who gave birth to one of your parents.

Well, that's not exactly right, but the whole subject of what's right and wrong in language usage is complicated immensely by the fact that anybody can—and many people do—change it as they see fit.

A current book by Edwin Newman of the National Broadcasting Co. dissects the whole subject and concludes that life would be a lot simpler and much more understandable if everyone reverted to plain English.

There is a theory that governmental excesses like Watergate might have been less likely had not Washington gobbledygook been honed to such a fine art that almost any fact or assertion could be confused and the true meaning "rendered inoperative."

Gobbledygook, incidentally, is a dictionary word meaning "wordy and generally unintelligible jargon."

Because newspapers need to express themselves clearly to a public able to grasp what is being conveyed, efforts are made from time to time to achieve some degree of uniformity.

A committee headed by Wallace Allen of the Minneapolis Tribune has just compiled a list of common errors in newspaper writing.

Conceding that every American has the inalienable right to speak and write the language in his own fashion, limited only by his ability to be understood and to function in the world, the committee acknowledged at the outset that "you may not agree with all the rulings."

Its suggestion: "Feel free to take those tips you like, and change those you don't like."

Under this qualification, in mind, we'll pass along some of the language niceties that have been singled out. They may or may not agree with all the textbooks, but they are what most newspapers are trying to adhere to in 1975.

Hopefully, One of the most commonly misused words, in spite of what the dictionary may say, is "flout."

Hopefully, this qualification in mind, we'll pass along some of the language niceties that have been singled out. They may or may not agree with all the textbooks, but they are what most newspapers are trying to adhere to in 1975.

Hopefully, I shall present the plain to the president. (This means I will be hopeful when I do it.)

But it is something else again we must attribute hope and non-person. You may write: "Hopefully, the war will end soon. This means you hope the war will end soon, but it is not what you are writing."

What you mean is: I hope the war will end soon.

Imply and infer. The speaker implies. The hearer infers. In advance of, or prior to. Use before; it sounds more natural.

It is its. It is the possessive. It's the contraction of it is. Wrong: What is its name? Right: What is its name? Its name is Fido.

Right: It's the first time he's scored tonight.

Right: It's my coat.

Right: He is the state of being. Wrong: The body will lay in state on Wednesday.

Right: The body will lie in state until Wednesday.

Right: The prosecutor tried to lay the blame on him.

However, the past tense of lie is lay.

Right: The body lay in state from Tuesday until Wednesday.

Wrong: The body laid in state from Tuesday until Wednesday.

The past participle and the past tense of lay are laid.

Right: He laid the pencil on the pad.

Right: The hen laid an egg. Leave, let: Leave alone means to depart from or cause to be in solitude. Let alone means to be undisturbed.

Wrong: The man had pulled a gun on her but Mr. Jones intervened and talked him into leaving her alone.

Right: The man had pulled a gun on her but Mr. Jones intervened and talked him into letting her alone.

Right: When entered the room, I saw that Jim and Bob were sleeping so I decided to leave them alone.

Less, fewer. If you can separate items in the quantities being compared, use fewer. If not, use less.

Right: The Rams are inferior to the Vikings because they have less good linemen.

Right: The Rams are inferior to the Vikings because they have fewer good linemen.

Right: The Rams are inferior to the Vikings because they have fewer good linemen.

Right: The Rams are inferior to the Vikings because they have fewer good linemen.

have less experience. Spelling: It's basic. Some ripe ones for the top of your list: It's consensus, not consensus. It's restaurateur, not restaurateur.

It's dietitian, not dietician. Temperatures: They may get higher or lower, but they don't get warmer or cooler.

That, which. That tends to restrict the reader's thought and direct it the way you want it to go; which is non-restrictive, introducing a bit of subsidiary information.

For instance: The lawnmower that is in the garage needs sharpening. (Meaning: We have more than one lawnmower. The one in the garage needs sharpening.)

The lawnmower, which is in the garage, needs sharpening. (Meaning: Our lawnmower needs sharpening. It's in the garage.)

Note that "which" clauses take commas, signaling they are not essential to the meaning of the sentence.

Under way, not underway. But don't say something got under way. Say it started or began. (Unless it's a boat.)

Unique. Something that is unique is the only one of its kind. It can't be very unique or quite unique or somewhat unique or rather unique. Don't use it unless you really mean unique.

Here are a few more guidelines: Ecology. environment. They are not synonymous.

Ecology is the study of the relationship between organisms and their environment.

Right: The laboratory is studying the ecology of man and their environment.

Right: There is much interest in animal ecology these days.

Wrong: Even so simple an undertaking as maintaining a lawn affects ecology.

Right: Even so simple an undertaking as maintaining a lawn affects our environment.

Either: It means one or the other, not both.

Wrong: There were lions on either side of the door.

Right: There were lions on each side of the door.

Flies, flyers. Airmen are flies. Handbills are flyers.

Flout, flaunt. They aren't the same words; they mean completely different things, and they're very commonly confused.

Flout means to mock, to scoff or to show disdain for. Flaunt means to display ostentatiously.

Funeral service. A redundant expression. A funeral is a service.

Head up. People don't head up committees. They head them. One of our pet peeves is the way people use the words Marshall and marshal.

Generally, the first form is correct only where the word is a proper noun: John Marshall, or Granite City's Marshall Grade School.

The second form is the verb form: Marilyn will marshal her forces.

And the second form is the one to use for a title: Fire Marshal Stan Anderson, Field Marshal Erwin Rommel.

We'd like to be able to say we've never seen "marsh" in the Press-Record, but we can't. However, we'll now try to marshal our forces and weed it out. Hopefully—that's how we'll approach the marshaling task. We'll go over some of the other suggestions in a later issue.

But if you're a comedian who makes his living by using malapropisms and fractured sentences, forget everything we've said.

The surgeon general may not have issued a warning yet, but for a comedian, good language could be hazardous to your income.

Positive Approach

"It is amazing how much control you have over whether your world runs smoothly. The most important factor is you."

When an individual reacts to a situation, he reacts to it. When he is cooperative and outgoing, he stimulates a cooperative spirit in others.

The "easy-does-it" approach may be best. When you get the job at hand done without overreacting to a challenge and upsetting others.

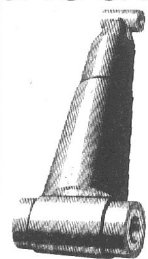

Try to analyze and handle anger. Knowing why you are angry and acknowledging it helps.

Don't brood. A change of pace, a refocusing of energies to do something positive and useful about a problem instead of brooding.

ERIE MILLS, a senior voice major at The College of Wooster, Ohio, she was one of six student soloists with the Wooster Concert Choir this week. The daughter of Mrs. Joseph Mills, 2104 Cottage Ave., Granite City, she sang soprano in Bach's Cantata No. 140 "Sleepers Wake! A Voice is Calling." During the fall, she also won first place in competition sponsored by the National Association of Teachers of Singing, held at Indiana University.

A&P WEO

WHERE ECONOMY ORIGINATES

OPERATION AWARE, 1975: A&P CUTS FOOD PRICES

1. PRICE CUTS ON STAPLES.

A&P starts the New Year by cutting the price on A&P Brands of staples such as Dry Milk, Beans, Peanut Butter, Macaroni, Luncheon Meat, Fish Sticks, Spaghetti, Macaroni, Spaghetti Sauce, Cheese Slices, Frozen Shredding Potatoes and other items that are important to a family's diet. So now you can get meaningful savings on many frequently purchased items.

2. WEEKLY SPECIALS TOO... IN ALL DEPARTMENTS.

Outstanding weekly specials to include meat, fresh fruits and vegetables and grocery items. And when A&P saves you money on meat, that really means something. Because at A&P, you know you're always getting fully matured meat that's cut, trimmed and priced for value. Take our beef, for instance. We sell only one quality of beef at A&P. And it's backed by our unconditional money-back guarantee and our Butcher's Pledge. That's the A&P Butcher's promise to always pack the better side of every cut down. So if you like what you see in the store, you'll love what you see at home.

3. AWARE LIST CONTINUES.

We're continuing our Early Warning System against price increases: The Aware List. Every week we will voluntarily post a list of price increases such as those received from manufacturers, a full seven days before we actually change our price. That gives you one week to purchase at the old price. And if we run out of the item before the date of the price change, we'll give you a raincheck at the old price. You'll also find "Be Aware" shelf tags on many frequently purchased items with the day of the price increase right on the tag. Of course, the Aware List won't include perishables like meat, eggs or fresh fruit and vegetables, where markets fluctuate daily, items controlled by law, or advertised specials.

4. CONSUMER PROTECTION POLICY.

We're of course continuing our commitment to making you an Aware Shopper by reminding you of what every A&P store owes you and by informing you of ways to get the most for your money. Look for the signs in A&P stores spelling out all the protection A&P gives you: 1. Guaranteed Satisfaction. 2. Exceptional Value. 3. Low Price with Absolutely No Compromise in Quality. 4. Rain Check Procedure Availability. 5. Product Freshness Through Open Dating. 6. Consumer Information. 7. Courteous Service. 8. Cleanliness. 9. Safe and Healthy Products. 10. Shopping Convenience. 11. The Butcher's Pledge. 12. Variety of Choice and 13. People to People Communication.

Accelerated building program proposed to create new jobs

Gov. Dan Walker on Wednesday proposed a $4.1 billion accelerated building program to "provide more jobs in the private sector and fill urgent human needs." The program includes:

- Widening and resurfacing 1,200 miles of hazardous roads and replacing 100 dangerous bridges.
- New schools; financing construction of new homes and apartments; rehabilitating and "humanizing" existing institutions.
- Community mental health centers; expanding pollution control projects; renovating Amtrak and commuter railroad stations.

—Three new state parks; energy conservation.

—New construction for higher education and rehabilitation grants for private colleges; and additional airport construction.

In order to expedite the two-year program, Gov. Walker said he will call a special session of the legislature to consider the program and act on enabling legislation.

The major considerations in determining which programs to proceed with are need, impact on unemployment and capability of early start-up, he said, adding that no new taxes would be required to pay for the program.

"These are projects which can and should be built by the state to meet human needs. Most are in the planning stages now. They are projects which, in addition to employing thousands of citizens, would improve the quality of life.

"By advancing the construction timetable, the economy will be helped now, people will be employed by needed projects which will be built at costs which, because of continuing inflation, are significantly lower now than in the future," he said.

An emergency construction act will be proposed to permit an accelerated building schedule.

At the faster pace, all projects under the program would be completed, substantially under way or committed at the end of the two-year period. Many of the programs would include early cutoff dates "to ensure maximum impact on use and employment."

Added to the $4.1 billion of state-authorized funding would be $400 million of local and federal matching funds, for a total of $4.5 billion.

Of the state-authorized total, the program includes almost $1,879,000,000 in new initiatives, and $2.2 billion in construction work that would have been started in the period under a normal state capital program.

The governor commented that "this is not a public works program of make-work projects or governmental jobs."

All the jobs created as a result of this proposal would be in the private sector of the economy. Building and rehabilitation work would be performed by private firms hiring their own employees, many of whom have been laid off because of lack of work.

It would be financed almost exclusively through construction bonds, sold under existing bonding authority and under additional bond authorization to be requested from the General Assembly.

To finance the accelerated building program, new bond authorization is sought, in the following areas:

- Highway reconstruction — $565 million in general obligation bonds.
- Industrial pollution control — $250 million in revenue bonds.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., Jan. 23, 1975 Page 23

School construction — $235 million GO bonds.

Housing development — $600 million revenue bonds.

Industrial development — $25 million revenue bonds.

Capital development — $288 million general obligation bonds.

Existing bond authorizations in these areas and for sewage treatment facilities also would be used.

BURGLARY ON MORGAN

Two rifles, a television, some electronic equipment and some jewelry were stolen from the home of Ron Britt in the 2900 block of Morgan Avenue, it was reported at 10:15 p.m. Tuesday.

A rear door bedroom window was broken to gain entry.

Sweets are blamed for children's tooth decay

The American Dental Association will observe 1975 National Children's Dental Health Week on Feb. 2-8, and as part of the observance is seeking to increase public awareness of ways to maintain dental health.

Local dentists report that a frequent question from parents is:

"Are there any special foods that contribute more than others to strong teeth? I want to help my children have good oral health."

The dentists respond as follows:

Keep in mind that a well balanced diet that promotes overall health promotes dental health, too. But if you have any questions about nutrition or meal-planning, your family dentist will be able to give you some personalized nutrition counseling.

Most people today eat far too many sweets, and sugar-rich foods are a factor in dental decay.

Simply, sugars activate the bacteria in the mouth, which in turn starts the formation of decay-causing acids.

To help prevent dental decay, it is wise to limit the consumption of sugar-rich foods and beverages to mealtimes.

Avoid sugary foods between meals, especially hard candies, suckers, breath mints and the like.

These foods are kept in the mouth for long periods of time and bathe the teeth continually in a pool of sugar, thus causing prolonged acid attacks on the teeth.

Make sure that meals include adequate amounts of food from the four basic food groups:

- Milk and dairy products (2-4 servings daily); meat and fish (2 or more servings daily); vegetables and fruits (4 or more servings daily); and bread and cereals (4 or more servings daily).

The pre-school years are an excellent time to begin to help your children establish good eating habits, the dentists say.

It is at this time that parents can control their diets by providing the proper food and by eliminating an abundance of between-meal sweet snacks and soft drinks.

In place of sugary snack foods, try serving such foods as raw vegetables, milk, cheese, nuts, eggs, fresh fruits, luncheon meats, sugary cereals or gum and dietetic soft drinks.

At the same time, avoid such foods as jams and jellies, dried fruits and all kinds of sugared candies and pastries.

Finally, don't reward good behavior with cookies, give the youngsters apples, pears, popcorn or peanuts; instead.

Coupled with good oral hygiene habits and periodic visits to the dentist, a proper diet can help you and your family maintain healthy teeth for a lifetime, the dentists conclude.

DAV elects, installs officers

Members of the Disabled American Veterans met Monday night and re-elected Charles Rittenberg as commander of the local chapter.

Others elected to serve for the ensuing year include Gordon Thompson, senior vice-commander; Robert Douglas, junior vice-commander; Andy Gitchoff, treasurer; and Lynn Mitkos, chaplain.

Two new members were accepted during the business session conducted by the commander.

A report was given by William Bratton on the district caucus held in Alto. He also reviewed new legislation that was passed by Congress relating to DAV members.

The next district meeting will take place in Belleville.

Commander Rittenberg announced that Chapter 33 is 100 per cent in membership. He also appointed Joe Heffery as service officer and adjutant; Robert Douglas, publicity chairman; Lynn Mitkos, baseball chairman; Andy Gitchoff, national employment for physically handicapped chairman, and William Bratton as district caucus chairman.

After the business discussions an installation ceremony was conducted by Joe Heffery, department chief of the staff of Department of Illinois DAV.

Burglar flees

Allice Oxford, 2433 Sunbury Ave., entered her home at 7:40 p.m. Tuesday and noticed a statue had been knocked on the floor. She said she heard noises and left the house to call police on a neighbor's telephone.

Witnesses reported seeing a man, about 6 feet tall, having long sideburns and wearing a red coat, yellow trousers and a blue stocking cap, run from the area.

Officers found the rear door of the home had been forced open. A coin collection worth about $300 was missing.

THEFT FROM SCHOOL

A $300 flute in a brown case and a $60 tape recorder were stolen from the band room of Granite City High School North between 9 a.m. and 10 a.m. Tuesday, school officials notified police.

PICKUP TRUCK STOLEN

The 1970 blue Ford half-ton pickup truck of Gene Outlaw, 3110 E. 23rd St., was stolen from his home, it was reported Wednesday.

Eagles honor area police and firemen

Local mayors, police chiefs and heads of fire departments were honored and "certificates of award" were presented by Fraternal Order of Eagles Aerie 1126 at a "family night" party of the lodge, held during the weekend at the Eagles Home, 2558 Madison Ave.

Quad-City police and fire departments were recognized for valor and effectiveness.

More than 100 members and guests attended the event and witnessed the presentation of certificates by William Haustein, Eagles president. Mrs. Paul (Billie) Schuler heads the Eagles Auxiliary.

Among the honored guests were Eagles State President Charles Pavelonis and Mrs. Pavelonis of Harrisburg. The state leader spoke, praising Aerie 1126 and the award recipients.

Officials receiving certificates were: Mayor Paul Schuler, Police Chief Ronald J. Veizer and Fire Chief Don Parente, Granite City; Mayor William "Mike" Ebersold, Police Chief Ralph D. Brawley and Fire Chief William Meehan, Venice; and Pontoon Beach President Floyd David Moss and Police Chief Rosewell Bennett Jr., and Long Lake Fire Chief Arnold Rutherford. Madison officials also were honored and are to receive their certificates later.

A buffet supper was served by the Eagles Auxiliary and a program of entertainment was provided by the Eaglesaires Kitchen Band, including vocal, instrumental, dance and novelty numbers.

Special guests introduced were Elmer Miller, president of the Granite City Board of Fire and Police Commissioners, Mrs. Miller, William F. Winter, Press-Record editor, and Mrs. Winter.

Teachers institute in Venice

The Venice School District will conduct a teachers institute at the school Friday. Students from the seventh through 12th grades may participate if they choose, along with any members of the community.

There will be no school in Venice Monday.

Dr. David Valley, of the staff of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, and his brother, Michael Valley, behavior modifier for the St. Louis School District, will make presentations.

Schuler in Washington on sewer fund appeal

Mayor Paul Schuler was to meet in Washington today with officials of the Federal Disaster Assistance Agency concerning Granite City's appeal of last year's rejection of approximately $400,000 in flood disaster funds which were sought by the city to repair broken sanitary sewer lines in the Nameoki area.

The mayor obtained an appointment to discuss the appeal after an engineering firm retained by the FDA surveyed sewer breaks here and submitted a report to the federal agency maintaining that repair work was within the scope of federal funding.

Evening Kiwanis back to Mondays

The Granite City Kiwanis Club at its meeting Tuesday night at Charlie's Restaurant voted to change its regular meeting night back to Monday.

The group met on Mondays, but changed to Tuesday three weeks ago when the restaurant began closing on Monday.

A spokesman at Charlie's Restaurant said the restaurant revoked the Monday closing due to a large number of requests from residents of the area.

Jack Poy, a representative of the Illinois Department of Revenue, spoke to the club Tuesday about filing the individual Illinois Income tax forms. He said it is very important that a taxpayer put his social security number on the Illinois form. He also emphasized that filling out the form is simple if a person takes time to read the instructions carefully.

The club's Valentine party will be held Saturday, Feb. 13, at the home of Samuel Stoeckley in St. Louis.

Kiwanians Howard Elbertson, Michael Tondas, Allen Jesse and Marvin Barnes were to visit the Breakfast Kiwanis Club meeting at 7 a.m. today.

The mayor was accompanied to Washington today by Lance Callis, representing City Attorney George Filcoff.

The funds in question were a part of approximately $925,000 in flood disaster aid sought by Granite City for sewer repair work which became necessary after the 1972 spring flooding damaged many sewer lines.

The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers recommended to the FDA that it not pay part of the repair work involving dewatering and by-pass pumping. The engineering firm retained by the FDA later held that the work was an essential part of the repairs, that the cost was properly assessed and in line with engineering practices. The report recommended payment of the disputed funds.

Thus far Granite City has received only $38,000 in flood disaster funds, although another $326,000 worth of claims have been approved. The government also has agreed to provide an additional $68,000 for repair of the Stearns Avenue sanitary sewer break.

Two charged in robberies

Billy Norton, 20, of 719 Twenty-sixth Place and Tom Carney, 21, of 4412 Kuseberg Drive, Pontoon Beach, are being held in the Madison County Jail.

Each has been charged with armed robbery by the South Roxana police in connection with a tavern holdup at 11:15 p.m. Monday.

The pair also is charged by the Madison County Sheriff's department with armed robbery, burglary of an auto and unlawful use of a weapon resulting from a holdup on the Bowland parking lot at 10:30 p.m. Monday.

Pontoon Beach police arrested the two at 11:55 p.m. Monday after a police radio dispatch notified area departments to watch for two men driving a maroon-colored auto with a black top.

Police stopped the pair heading north on Division Street. Police said they recovered several items taken in the robbery at the Bowland parking lot.

Sewer bond plan revised

More than 50 householders in the Dream Villa subdivision who tap into a new sanitary sewer system will pay a monthly construction fee of $9.50 until a bond issue of $41,698 is paid.

A rate ordinance authorizing the monthly fee and an ordinance and resolution providing for issuance of the bonds to finance the sewer construction cost were approved by the City Council in regular meeting Monday night.

The aldermen, in a related action, approved a resolution directing sale of the $41,698 sewer revenue bonds to the First Granite City National Bank at 7 percent interest. The bonds are amortized at 20 years.

The new rate ordinance establishes a tap-on fee of $45 for each residential connection, plus a $5 inspection fee for each connection. The $45 tap-on fee is effective until the city accepts the sewer construction. After that, the tap-on cost will increase to $160, and will increase $115 per year thereafter to a maximum of $1,195.

The bond issue approved Monday night replaces one approved in early December. That measure called for issuance of $50,000 in bonds, but the amount needed in bond funds since has been reduced because some residents who will hook into the sewer have paid their proportionate share of the cost in full in advance of monthly billing procedures.

Householders who will use the new sewer line will pay the full cost of the installation through the bond issue. Part of the line will serve five homes on Kilarney Drive, all homes on the north side of Zippel Street from Kilarney to Willow Avenue, and both sides of Emert Avenue from Edgewood to Maryville Road.

The new sewer will have 60 taps and about 58 homes are expected to hook into the line. Forty-nine already have signed for service.

The council Monday night also reaffirmed its action of an earlier meeting in granting a use permit for construction of a new fire station at Johnson Road and Richmond Ave.

The action was taken on recommendation of Assistant City Attorney Eric Robertson to provide compliance with time requirements in council approval of zoning actions in cases in which no action by the City Plan Commission was taken. The plan commission made no recommendation on the City's use permit request and the permit was granted by the council on its own initiative. Alderman Walter Nann suggested the council first should rescind its earlier action approving the use permit, but Alderman Gerald Parmley noted the earlier action had been taken only on a motion and not on a suspension of rules and therefore could be re-enacted at any time.

Council members also approved an additional appropriation of $48,000 in motor fuel tax funds for installation of the new traffic signals and enlargement of the intersection at Nameoki-Johnson-Fehling Roads. The city previously had appropriated $100,000 for the project, but later revisions increased the estimated cost to $148,000.

While the appropriation is made by the city to cover the total cost, about 78 percent of the funding will come from the state. On this basis, the city expects to pay only about $35,500 of the overall cost.

HOUSE BURGLARY

Thieves broke into the home of Verna Ahner, 4382 Lake Drive, and took a color television and stereo, it was reported Monday night. Entry was gained by breaking the glass in a door.

Carbon monoxide takes heaviest toll in winter

By JOAN MURARO
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

One thing you can say for sure about carbon monoxide — it's a real gas.

It's also a real killer, and one much more likely to strike during the winter months — when tightly closed houses and use of unorthodox auxiliary heat sources set up the perfect situation for its silent and sinister attack.

Carbon monoxide is produced by the incomplete burning of a fuel — solid, liquid or gaseous. Much more significant to the potential victim is the fact that it is invisible, odorless and tasteless. And deadly.

The Illinois Department of Public Health, through the Division of Disease Control, warns that the person exposed to carbon monoxide may experience a tightening across the forehead, drowsiness, nausea and vomiting.

Unconsciousness can occur, and this can be followed by death.

Even when this grim prognosis isn't fulfilled, a person exposed to the "silent killer" may experience dizzy spells, anemia, circulatory impairment, nervousness and irritability.

When carbon monoxide poisoning has occurred, the best first-aid is fresh air — lots of fresh air. Then a doctor should be seen, immediately.

Better than treating carbon monoxide poisoning is avoiding it. The public health department has a number of suggestions along those lines.

Noting that more than 70 percent of the carbon monoxide incidents occur during the winter months, the department lists seven suggestions, some of them "do's" and some of them "don't's."

Under the "do" category, they recommend:

— Do check the fireplace draft, ventilating systems and gas appliance at least once a year, or better yet, have an expert do it.

The local gas company will usually provide this service, upon request.

— Do have your chimney vent checked annually for defects. These vents can become blocked by debris, particularly fallen leaves.

— Do leave a window slightly open near your furnace. This small supply of constant fresh air will assist in safe, more complete burning of fuels, while permitting combustion gases to escape to the outside.

Among the "don't" category:

— Don't use your gas range or oven for heating purposes, since this can result in carbon monoxide accumulating.

— Don't burn charcoal in your home. Whatever the kind — black, red or gray — it all gives off carbon monoxide.

— Don't apply tape, gum or any other makeshift patch to any vent pipe.

— Don't run an auto engine in a garage, even briefly, if the door is shut.

Carbon monoxide can build up swiftly this way, posing not only a threat to the driver if he remains in the car, but to occupants of an attached house, if there is a connecting door or wall through which the poisonous gas can seep.

Car mufflers and tailpipes should be checked regularly to be sure they are not permitting the gas to filter back into the auto.

Bi-State studies $20 million transit improvement program

Proposed improvements to the Bi-State Transit System, including new 200 buses, more routes and trial Dial-A-Ride service in some areas, are being given serious consideration by the Bi-State Development Agency, which operates the bus line.

Bi-State is preparing a grant application for $16.7 million in federal funds from the Urban Mass Transportation Administration which would finance the major portion of the $20.9 million capital improvement program under consideration.

The remaining 20 per cent of the funds would be available from the Missouri sales tax subsidy and other sources.

A preliminary application for the funds already has been filed. It was reported.

Proposed additional routes also are being considered and were part of a five-page blueprint for orderly improvement of public bus services which was presented Monday to the executive advisory committee of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council for study.

The committee is to make recommendations on the plan to the full East-West Gateway Council after completion of the study. The plan must be approved by the full council as well as the Bi-State Board of Commissioners.

Among the additional routes in the five-year plan are a new express line from Edwardsville to Route 162 and east to Granite City, and extending the Collinsville-Edwardsville line to include Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Also, more buses to the McKinley Bridge during peak hours, extending local trips which now terminate at Maryville Road to Sara Street, and adding more buses to the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center.

Park-ride services, starting from large automobile parking lots, are being considered from several Illinois locations to Hazelwood and the McDonnell-Douglas Ford Motor Co. employment centers.

The Quad-Cities are not among areas presently considered for trial Dial-A-Ride service, which allows a rider to telephone for a bus to pick him up at his home and take him directly to his destination.

Alton, Waterloo and Edwardsville are the three Illinois communities being considered for the start of this service. Five Missouri population centers also are under consideration for Dial-A-Ride.

The feasibility for Dial-A-Ride still is uncertain, due to high operating costs and the need to keep the fares low enough to attract riders, a spokesman for Bi-State commented, adding that large subsidies would be required if the service is provided.

It is estimated that the average Dial-A-Ride cost per rider would be about $1.90 for Alton, $2.10 for Waterloo and $2.75 for Edwardsville.

All future bus improvements are contingent upon approval of grants for the new buses. The proposed grant for 200 buses and other equipment is in addition to 340 buses Bi-State already has ordered following approval of grant applications last year.

The proposed new grant is for 120 new 45-passenger buses, 50 new 50-passenger buses, 30 new 30-passenger buses, 900 locking fareboxes, 50 bus shelters, 200 two-way bus radios, and new office and shop equipment.

Time change on briefing

A new time and place has been announced for an Illinois State Chamber of Commerce legislative briefing session Thursday, March 6, in Belleville. The 12 noon luncheon will be held in Fischer's Restaurant, 2100 W. Main St., Belleville.

Cosponsors of the briefing are the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce, Fairview Heights Chamber of Commerce, Greater East St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, Collinsville Chamber of Commerce, Edwardsville Chamber of Commerce, Greater Alton Association of Commerce, Wood River Township Chamber of Commerce and Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting originally was scheduled for that evening in August.

The briefing, one of 12 to be held across the state in February and March, will acquaint business men and women with the legislative outlook in Springfield during the new session of the Illinois General Assembly.

Reservation information is available from the cosponsoring chambers.

Lear cited for science talent

The honors group in the 34th annual Science Talent Search includes Gary Lee Lear, 17, Granite City, it was announced Wednesday in Washington by the Science Clubs of America and in Pittsburgh by the Westinghouse Educational Institute.

His project report dealt with "Electroluminescence as a possible replacement for color television picture tubes."

From this group, 40 winners will be chosen for expense-paid trips to Washington, where they will vie for Westinghouse scholarships and awards totaling $67,500. This final phase of the competition takes place during the five-day Science Talent Institute beginning Feb. 26 and running through March 3. Names of the 40 winners will be announced Jan. 28.

This year's science talent search generated a number of research projects in the ecological and environmental sciences as well as many engineering projects.

Entrance material for 14,321 graduating students was requested by schools for the search. Of the 1,118 who met all qualifications for the judging, there were 764 boys and 354 girls.

Additional scholarships and awards will be given many entrants in state science talent searches which utilize the entries in the national competition. States conducting them include Illinois.

Land restoration urged

Illinois must reclaim strip mined, eroded and low-fertility soil areas so that they become productive in terms of agriculture, forestry, wildlife management and outdoor recreation, according to a quarterly report of the Illinois Natural History Survey.

The report was presented by Dr. George Sprugel Jr., Survey chief, to the Board of Natural Resources and Conservation at a late-January meeting in Chicago.

The need for more acres of productive land becomes increasingly apparent every year, Dr. Sprugel said.

There is not enough time to let nature heal the wounds that have been inflicted by mankind, he commented.

Survey scientists seeking methods of speeding the recovery process favor a combination of productive grasses, shrubs and trees that will support a large selection of game and non-game wildlife.

Research by one Survey biologist has demonstrated that applications of agricultural limestone and rock phosphate—and the incorporation of these into the upper soil—favor a productive plant community which, in turn, can support a more productive wildlife population, according to Dr. Sprugel's report.

In highly eroded areas where there is relatively little topsoil and where populations of native grasses are low, seeding with a mixture of domestic weeds and grasses may be desirable.

In such situations, a mixture emphasizing several legumes, or pod-bearing plants, should be used, it is asserted.

Legumes are desirable in that they provide a continuing availability of nitrogen, which facilitates the growth of other plants and provides food and cover for small mammal populations the report concludes.

Eligible for new loans

More than four million veterans, whose GI home loans have been paid in full, are potentially eligible for new loans guaranteed by the Veterans Administration under legislation approved by the President Dec. 31, 1974.

New loans are possible also for some four and a half million who now have loans outstanding when their current GI loan is paid off and the home purchased with it has been disposed of.

The broadened eligibility rules apply to all veterans who have served since the beginning of World War II.

VA Administrator Richard L. Roudebush said the recent legislation follows a trend of relaxing eligibility for the VA guaranteed loans set by Congress over the past decade.

The changes have been made possible by the continued good credit record set by veteran borrowers, he noted.

Other provisions of the Dec. 31 law designed to make GI loans more attractive to both lenders and borrowers are:

1. An increase from $12,500 to $17,500 in the maximum portion of a GI loan which VA can guarantee. There is no limit on the amount of the loan to which the VA guarantee applies.

2. A provision for loans to purchase lots on which to place mobile home units already owned by veterans.

3. An increase in the maximum permissible loan amount for a single-width mobile home unit to $12,500 and doublewide to $20,000.

4. Removal of the July 1, 1975, delimiting date for guaranteeing loans on mobile home and mobile home lots.

5. Liberalizing rules for guaranteeing loans used for mobile homes.

6. Streamlining processing of loan approvals through VA approved lenders.

7. Broadened possibilities on guaranteeing loans on one-family condominiums by removing link to HUD insurance.

The maximum grant to certain disabled veterans in need of special housing also was increased from $17,500 to $25,000 by the Dec. 31 law.

The new law also closed off VA's farm and business loan program, it was noted.

Extra hours for tax aid

The Internal Revenue Service has announced that its toll-free telephone service and local office "walk-in" assistance will be available the next three Saturdays, Jan. 25, Feb. 1 and Feb. 8, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., to provide additional help to taxpayers preparing their Federal income tax returns.

Ira S. Loeb, IRS district director for Central and Southern Illinois said, "Taxpayers who have questions should first take advantage of our toll-free telephone assistance by dialing 800-252-2921. However, if their questions are too complicated to handle by phone, they may visit their nearest IRS office at 901 Belle St., Alton, or 650 Missouri Ave., East St. Louis.

Taxpayer service representatives on duty will answer a wide variety of questions about home mortgage deductions, estimated taxes, retirement income credit, child care and medical deductions, exemptions for dependents and many other tax matters, Loeb said.

They also will assist taxpayers in preparing their own returns. Loeb reminded taxpayers that when contacting IRS they should have their records in order and a separate list of deductions and sources of all income when visiting an IRS office.

GC man elected to church board

The congregation of the Church of Religious Science in St. Louis elected James Spambauer, 2016 Dale Ave., to the church board of directors at its annual meeting this week.

The Granite City was named to a three-year term of office. He will serve with eight other board members, the Rev. Pete Destazio, pastor, has announced.

BATHHOUSE AND HINKY DINK: POLITICAL BOSSSES

The political "Boss" is rapidly becoming an anachronism. The environment which led to the rise of Tammany Hall-style politics has changed, but the boss as a political phenomenon remains a fascinating object of study.

Two of Illinois' most colorful bosses were "Bathhouse" John Coughlin and Michael "Hinky Dink" Kenna. The two sons of Irish immigrants lived in Chicago's First Ward, a polyglot immigrant district which included both the wealthy Loop and the Levee—Chicago's famous saloon, gambling, red-light strip. The men became political partners in 1893, and their colorful antics kept Chicago talking into the 1930's.

Colorful is the precise word, for the pair formed a cartoonist's daydream. Coughlin loved splendid clothes, and his pink, purple, and "billiard table green" suits provided endless newspaper copy. Looking like a real life Mutt and Jeff, big, gregarious Bathhouse and stubby, closed-mouth Hinky Dink organized and controlled the First Ward.

In exchange for monthly contributions, the Coughlin-Kenna organization furnished legal protection to the Levee. They kept a defense attorney on retainer and given shelter, Kenna's faithful floaters repaid his generosity by coming back to the First Ward each election day to vote—early and often. Government social service agencies now take the place of the boss. Civil Service undermines his patronage power and under restrictive legislation the immigrant population has dwindled. Official ombudsmen attempt to restore the personal touch to government, and the days of the big city machine seem numbered. Bathhouse and Hinky Dink are long since dead—as is much of the environment that surrounded them.

Price—Congress will be 'action oriented'

Cong. Melvin Price (Dem., 23rd Ill.) characterizes the mood of the new 94th Congress as one which is "action-oriented."

"The 94th Congress convened this month at a time of great challenge, perhaps never seen before in this country. The nation faces a severe shortage in its most essential material—unemployment is climbing at an ever-increasing rate," the local congressman noted.

"Prices spiral upward as the value of our dollar drops."

"The time for long-term study has passed. This nation must now act decisively to pull itself from the mire in which it has become bogged down.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., Jan. 23, 1975 Page 38

"And as the nation's elected representatives, Congress must and will take the responsibility of initiating solutions to these most pressing problems."

Cong. Price, a member of the 10-man Democratic task force appointed by House Speaker Carl Albert to draft a comprehensive program of action, this week cited some of the methods which will be proposed to Congress to revive the economy and stimulate growth.

Included are measures for immediate tax relief, increased public service employment, and stimulation of the housing industry through lowered interest rates and interest rate subsidies.

Price also has urged reform of the Social Security payroll tax, legislation already under consideration under his sponsorship.

Price called for immediate action to conserve the energy supply, and he discussed the possibility of long-term, low interest loans for home insulation improvements to conserve home heating fuels.

Rep. Price also strongly recommended that caution be used in consideration of any proposed fuel tax, saying that "a high retail sales tax would undoubtedly affect those lower-income and middle-income families already hurt by the current economic situation."

"Funding for research into possible new sources of energy is vital to our energy needs for the future."

Price also noted a need for "Congressional attention to the less imperative problems of health care, consumer protection and food production to assist Americans in obtaining the most for their money."

"Our goal is simple — to revive and rebuild this nation's economy."

The American people elected this Congress in the hope that it would take quick action on the most important problems facing this nation today.

"We do not plan to disappoint the people in this hope. All-out effort is necessary to put this nation back on its feet, and that is exactly what this Congress will give."

County grant for year to be announced soon

Nelson Hagnauer, chairman of the Madison County Board, has announced that the county has received word that it possesses the essential powers required to qualify as an urban county under the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974.

The powers referred to in a letter from the assistant secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development include the authority to carry out urban renewal and publicly-assisted housing activities.

Amount of the 1975 grant is expected to become known next week.

In order to receive the designation which qualifies Madison County and its cities to receive up to $7 million over the next three years, the county was required to submit written documentation supporting its statutory authority for the activities.

Hagnauer said the only remaining requirement before submitting the application was the submission of cooperative resolutions signed between the cities and the county. All 26 communities within Madison County have signed the resolutions, insuring 100 per cent participation.

The letter from HUD indicated that the 1975 grant amount for the county will be announced on or about Jan. 30.

Extension Service helping family health, thrift and ability to cope

By DR. CONSTANCE
McKENNA
Assistant Director,
Home Economics
and Family Development
University of Illinois
Cooperative
Extension Service

People are the most important resources this country has.

Today, as people grow up in family units, and as those units change with life-cycles, we find a growing demand for the home economics and family development programs of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Our programs are unique because the subject matter we teach is backed up by the line access to research in the School of Human Resources and Family Studies and throughout the University of Illinois.

We've recently made some important shifts in the home economics family development program structure because their needs vary. But for the most part, our work falls into these four broad categories:

—In-service education and updating in general home economics for home economics teachers.

—In-service education in nutrition for nurses of county health departments.

—In-service education to case workers of the Department of Public Assistance.

—Extension advisers in home economics serving on coordinating councils with staff from social agencies in the county.

The Urban Audience
Betina W. Porter is program leader for this audience. Illinois is one of the key states in the fast pace of metropolitan development. Nearly nine million of the state's residents live in metropolitan areas.

Many of the critical urban concerns relate directly to quality of living, so this audience is a logical target for Extension programming in nutrition, consumer competence, family housing and family well-being.

Program models for urban Extension programs are being developed and will most likely include problem-solving teams. Team members will work with paraprofessionals and volunteer leaders to adapt traditional rural programs to urban audience needs. And they will use mass media as a major program delivery system for a county Extension program.

Problem solving is a prime concern of Extension. The County advisers working with local people on program concerns have a wide range of program possibilities. Here are three examples:

—Coordinate efforts with other agencies and groups to supplement, rather than duplicate, existing programs.

—Develop programs to help older people understand changes, and recognize that many problems are common to all older people.

—Develop face-to-face and mass-media programs to help older people recognize that learning can be interesting and stimulating and to help them make the best use of their own resources.

In addition, we will continue cooperation with the nutrition phase of the congregate-feeding program for the elderly as funded by Title VII of the Older Americans Act. That Act provides that the aged should have access to nutritionally sound meals at strategically located centers, and requires that a nutrition-education program also be included.

The Limited Resources and Transitional Groups.

Illa Harris serves as program leader for this audience. I should point out that limited resource people are those who live with specific limitations — not only the stereotyped, low-income "poor."

Our challenge is to use subject matter to help people maximize their limited resources. An example is the migrant worker audience.

Migrant workers are a continuing, long-term audience that must be served through short-term programs. We've had our greatest success in training volunteer leaders to work with migrant one-to-one in small groups where they can see demonstrations and other types of illustrative teaching.

The Professional Audience.

Pearl Winterfeldt serves as program leader for this audience. Agencies, organizations and institutions in home economics and family-related services that deal directly with individual and family-centered problems usually have similar basic goals as Extension. Consequently, the professional audience is a logical choice for Extension.

Our work with these people varies because their needs vary. But for the most part, our work falls into these four broad categories:

—In-service education and updating in general home economics for home economics teachers.

—In-service education to case workers of the Department of Public Assistance.

—Extension advisers in home economics serving on coordinating councils with staff from social agencies in the county.

approach has proven effective in uplifting the quality of life in rural America, and the challenge is to adapt the approach to urban societal problems.

The Young Adults.
Nada Hall serves as program leader for this audience that is the stage in the life cycle fullest in "teachable moments." But many young adults are tied down with homemaking job activities and they are less likely to join groups than are more "settled" individuals.

As professional educators, our challenge is to bring information to the young adult at the teachable moment. In doing so, we have unique opportunities to explore innovative programming possibilities.

Home Economics Clientele in Community Resource Development.

Shirley Whitchurch is program leader for this audience — a diverse group that really includes all people we work with in Home Economics and Family Development programs.

As we think of the total family and what affects the community has upon it, it is apparent many home economists are already involved.

The concept of community development facilitates the development of individuals and families as well as of natural and economical resources.

Consequently, our role is to help families know what resources are available and how to gain access to them — for example, education and health and recreation facilities.

By exercising our concern and generating action in community involvement programs, we will help develop leadership among family members as they seek and find their role in community development.

Through this process, we help achieve a better quality of life for the family as well as an improved community.

The people in these six audience groups have always been part of the total Extension audience. But we hope that the recent shifts in program structure — and the leadership assigned to programs for each audience — will make our work even more meaningful to the Illinois people involved.

Medical Society assails proposed drug cost limit

A federal proposal to limit Medicare-Medicaid prescription costs would force the elderly and indigent to accept second class health care, the Illinois State Medical Society charged this week.

Under proposed Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) regulations, pharmacists filling Medicare-Medicaid prescriptions would be required to substitute a cheaper "chemical equivalent" if the prescribed drug exceeds HEW's price ceiling, it is contended.

"It appears that HEW is more concerned with reducing costs than upgrading the quality of patient care," ISMS President Dr. Fredric D. Lake, Evanston, charged in a letter to the department.

"Forcing these patients to accept an inferior drug relegates them to second-class citizens and directly contradicts Medicare-Medicaid provisions of the Social Security Act developed to insure quality care for the elderly and indigent."

Dr. Lake accused HEW of failing to consider possible harmful effects caused by drug substitution.

"How can HEW ignore a recent study by the Congressional Office of Technology Assessment (OTA) which indicates that chemically equivalent drugs do not produce the same therapeutic effect in patients?"

"Two brands of the same drug may contain equivalent amounts of an active ingredient, but different manufacturing processes can limit or increase their effectiveness," Dr. Lake said.

For example, several brands of the drug, used to treat heart ailments — recently were found to have significantly different potencies, he asserted.

The stronger products caused adverse reactions, while the less-potent drugs provided no therapeutic effect, Dr. Lake said.

"The Food and Drug Administration recalled some brands only after numerous reports of serious complications."

"Until proven safeguards are established to insure therapeutic equivalence, implementation of the HEW regulations could be extremely harmful to patients," he said; the OTA report emphasized the lack of equivalency standards.

According to Dr. Lake, the HEW proposal also raises a severe legal question.

"Who is liable for complications which arise because the patient did not receive the prescribed drug?"

"Perhaps the regulations should contain a provision transferring liability to the dispenser or the HEW."

Under the proposal, reimbursement for prescription costs would be limited to HEW's maximum allowable cost, or the pharmacist's cost plus 25 percent, whichever is lower.

As the acquisition cost rises, this percentage will shrink because of the price ceiling, Dr. Lake predicted.

"The pharmacist's only recourse may be to cut acquisition costs by stocking only one generic substitute for each drug," he said. "This may force patients to 'shop around' for the necessary drug."

Physicians do not benefit financially by prescribing a particular brand, Dr. Lake said. "MDs share their choice of drugs solely on their experience with various brands and the patient's medical history."

"These regulations will supersede the physician's clinical judgment and force patients to accept an inferior substitute — possibly with unfortunate results."

The ISMS president also labeled as unfounded HEW claims that the regulations will save the government approximately $89 million annually.

"HEW admits that it has not studied the economic aspects of these regulations, and that implementation and administrative costs on the federal, state and local levels could negate any savings for at least three years."

"Until studies are conducted to determine the actual cost, it is presumptuous of HEW to make these claims and implement the regulations," he said.

Dr. Lake concluded that the proposed HEW regulations are "serious threat to proper health care for thousands of Illinois citizens enrolled in the Medicare and Medicaid programs."

Plan nursing school seminar

Religion, culture and health care will be discussed by representatives of the School of Nursing at the Southern Illinois University Edwardsville seminar at 8 p.m. Friday in the Loyola Library auditorium on the SIUE campus.

Ina Ingwerson, associate professor of nursing, and Margaret Chang, instructor of nursing, will be assisted by Judy Wider, a nursing student from Edwardsville who has been designated as a presidential scholar for the seminar series.

"Health practices and health ideas have their roots deeply imbedded in the cultural background of each human being. It is important to become less ethnocentric and to gain a better understanding regarding the aspects of food habits, reaction to pain and the significance of death as it relates to health care."

Professor Ingwerson and Instructor Chang said, explaining their presentation. The public is invited to seminar sessions.

State names consultant on coal use

The Department of Business and Economic Development has retained Karl E. Heden as its energy consultant to be based in Washington, D.C.

Department Director Joseph P. Pisciotte said this week Heden will seek support for locating in Illinois coal development projects financed by the federal government as well as by private industry.

Pisciotte said, "Karl Heden's experience in dealing with both the federal government and private enterprise should prove to be a valuable asset to Illinois as we accelerate our state energy program."

"Illinois has more bituminous coal than any other state and can contribute in large measure to easing the nation's energy problems through the increased use of these abundant resources."

The Department of Business and Economic Development was designated the Illinois action agency for the new Energy Development Program passed by the General Assembly and introduced into law by Gov. Dan Walker last year. Heden has been a consultant to private firms in the energy field since 1969. Before that he was an executive with a New York engineering, fabrication, erection and plant start-up firm in the process field.

He has been instrumental in formulating contracts in the areas of H-coal, fluidized bed boilers and liquid phase methanation processes.
